On Monday March 23, Tulalip employees from all entities, Tulalip Resort Casino (TRC), Quil Ceda Village and Tulalip Admin, came together to make necklaces in support of Tulalip's upcoming Boys & Girls Club auction. The necklace making event was held in the upstairs conference room of the TRC's administration building from 11:00a.m. to 2:00p.m.

The goal is to create 250 hand-made necklaces that will be sold as keepsakes for those attending the 17th Annual Tulalip

2015 Annual General Council

Record turnout of voters focus on community and healing

By Niki Cleary

The 2015 Annual General Council and Tulalip Board of Directors elections brought 1,226 Tulalip citizens to the vote, 44%, almost half of the Tribe's eligible voters. The two years prior only 38% of Tulalip's voters showed up to the polls.

After the Treasurer's report the first item of old business was brought forward by Tammy Taylor. She expressed concern that while bədaʔchəlh has made immense progress in the last year, neither the new bedaʔchelh policy or the new youth code have been enacted yet.

"We've talked so many times about bədaʔchəlh," she said, "today the work has been done, but it's just sitting there. Some good work has been done at bedaʔchelh but there is a problem with accountability. There are rules at bedaʔchelh but they are so vague that there is no way to hold anybody accountable. There is no structure for parents of children who are trying to get their kids back."

Vice-Chair Les Parks described changes in the form of statistics.

"In the year I've been here, things have turned around amazingly in bedaʔchelh. The year before there were about 125 new cases opened and only 20 or 30 closed. In the past year there was an amazing turnaround with only 50 cases open and 125 closed. Not to say it's perfect, it does need work."

Board Secretary Marie Zackuse explained that the youth code is before the Services Committee for a second read. She

Correction to Woodworth Henry obituary letter

Correction to Woodworth V. "Bunny" "Woody" Henry obituary letter, submitted by Loretta James, that was printed in the March 25, 2015 issue of the See-Yaht-Sub. The names of Leroy "Skooky" Henry and Mary Jo James were incorrectly published. We apologize for the mistake and any inconvenience this may have caused the family.

Tulalip Tribes Vision

We gathered at Tulalip are one people. We govern ourselves. We will arrive at a time when each and every person has become most capable. Together we create a healthy and culturally vibrant community

Tulalip Tribes Mission

We make available training, teaching and advice, both spiritual and practical.

Tulalip Tribes Values

1. We respect the community of our elders past and present, and pay attention to their good words.
2. We uphold and follow the teachings that come from our ancestors.
3. It is valued work to uphold and serve our people.
4. We work hard and always do our best.
5. We show respect to every individual.
6. We strengthen our people so that they may walk a good walk.
7. We do not gossip, we speak the truth.

anticipates that it will be passed soon.

Following the discussion about bədaʔchəl̩h the conversation quickly turned to the prevalence and the damage caused by child sexual abuse. For nearly two hours the community shared stories of abuse as well as stories of support for the victims. The overwhelming sentiment, more needs to be done for the victims and more needs to be done to hold perpetrators accountable.

Board of Director Marlin Fryberg, Jr. said, "It's been reported to the Chief of Police, that they're seeing five to six reports of sexual assaults on children per week. It takes all of us to educate, report and not be quiet. I wanted to throw that out there because those are scary numbers!"

Tulalip citizen Dennis Boone offered a solution.

"Child sexual abuse is, unfortunately, a legacy that we brought home from the boarding schools. There is one tribe in Washington that will likely end [child sexual] abuse in one generation, that's Muckleshoot. They're making the abusers face the community and answer to what they've done. We can't keep burying our heads in the sand about the worst thing we've brought home."

Motions

The below motions are summaries of what was brought to the floor, not the exact wording of the motion. Each includes arguments for and against the motion. No motions are official until ratified by the Board of Directors. Several requests for an interview were sent to the Chairman, he was unavailable prior to our print deadline.

Motion 1

The first motion brought forward under old business was put on the floor by Debbie Posey. The motion was to halt construction of the new Quil Ceda Creek Casino and Justice Center until the Board of Directors brings options back to the General Council. The motion failed with 78 for and 244 against.

"I've been working with our Board for the past four years on this project, I'm opposed to this motions," said Marci Tyson, Executive Vice-President of Gaming Operations at the Tulalip Resort Casino, speaking against the motion. "We recommended this project to our Board four years ago. We cannot grow, we are stagnant, we are stuck and we can't afford for this project to be on hold indefinitely.

"We are in continuous danger of losing customers to our competitors. Trying to regain that individual who was once loyal to you is nearly impossible. We understand the concern about debt, but if we're not allowed to go forward with this project, we cannot continue with the revenue that we're making. We'll see a decline and it will be immediate."

Margie Santibanez spoke for the motion, "I have mixed emotions. We talk about our youth and we talk about our elders now we're going to build another casino ahead of our youth. Either this Board starts walking its talk or we need to hold them accountable. The Gathering Hall should have been built years ago. When is that going to be? That's why I'm conflicted."

Board Treasurer Glen Gobin clarified, saying that the loan amount included the cost of a gathering facility.

Motion 2

Dawn Simpson brought forward a motion to disband the Disability Committee and to allow the experts who sign off on disability applications to determine whether a person is disabled or not. The motion failed with 87 for and 91 against.

"The doctors, are they general practitioners?" Asked Simpson. "They don't know it all and people have to go to experts in their field, and yet you have two general practitioners saying you're lying. Some are saying, I saw you at a game, you're not disabled. Do we restrict our disabled people from doing anything?"

"I'm against this motion," said Tribal Government Interim General Manager Misty Napeahi. "What we found is that if you go to the doctor with our application, they were signing off on people who were not disabled because they don't care if the tribe pays you $1,000. With the State, if a doctor signs and you're found not to be disabled, they could be brought up on fraud."

Napeahi explained that the Disability Committee is made up of medical professionals, including doctors and a pharmacist. The See-Yaht-Sub confirmed with Health Clinic staff that the Disability Committee is composed of: a Clinical Lead, Family Practice Nurse Practitioner, Family Practice or Internal Med MD/DO, Licensed Psychologist, Mental Health MD/Nurse Practitioner and a Tulalip Community Member who on staff at the Health Clinic.

All completed applications go before the Disability Committee. When the Disability Committee feels it's not clear whether an applicant qualifies, the Committee may request additional chart notes, or evaluations. Occasionally the Committee refers applicants out for a second opinion or specialist consultation. Napeahi said that the Disability Committee is a way to reign in a program that can be easily abused without oversight.

Thona Acosta, who is paraplegic, spoke for the motion, saying, "These doctors aren't lying when they say, yes, she's disabled. Why do I have to go out there with our regular doctor, then, come back and have you guys do the same thing with people who don't know, who aren't educated?"

Motion 3

Mike Pablo brought forward a motion of no confidence for Debbie Bray of Economic Development and Tom Mackenzie, Engineering Services and Parametrix. The concern seemed to center around a lack priority on enforcing tribal preference. The motion passed with 204 for and 36 against.

Board of Director Marlin Fryberg, Jr., said, "Thank you, Mike, for sharing words. Never apologize for what you have passion for. The Quil Ceda Village Council did hear their concerns and agreed with their concerns. It's a TERO issue. We try to hear the concerns and address them."

Ginny Ramos, who works for TERO added, "As TERO we fight for small businesses. When this came across my desk two weeks ago, I asked the owner of that business to bring it before the TERO Commission."

Motion 4

Justice Whitley made a motion to amend the Tulalip Tribes Drug and Alcohol Free Workplace code. The motion seemed to center around a vague part of the code that can lead to disciplinary or firing if an employee tests positive for a controlled substance, even when that substance is prescribed by a physician. The motion adds language that clarifies the code, "...A second positive test will be exempt providing the employee is using medication prescribed by a physician." The motion passed with 136 for and 133 against.

Motion 5

Jared Parks brought a motion to the floor to create a profit sharing system for per capita distributions, rather than the flat amount currently paid. He proposed using 34% percentage of earnings from Tulalip's for-profit business to calculate each year's payments. Every year, using the earnings from the year to determine the amount. After a motion to table failed, the main motion also failed with 76 for and 244 against.

"The intent of this isn't to bleed the tribe, it's not a get more or a 'gimme'," said Parks. He explained that the motion brings stability to the budget and encourages the Board and citizens to be proactive about Tulalip's future financial success.

"The Intent of this motion is to light a fire under my leaders," Parks continued. "Pretty soon, this Board is constitutionally bound to take care of the people. You saw it last year when they cut programs."

Dawn Simpson spoke against the motion, "I guess I worry because I don't think we're getting a true picture of the income and expenses. 34% sounds great, but I'm worried about the people who their only income is per capita. I'm afraid it's a way to reduce the per capita."

Marci Tyson spoke for the motion, "This is an issue that all of us struggle with. Who doesn't like to cash the check. It's a blessing that our tribe is able to give this to our membership. Jared is passionate about his people and he did his homework. I can say that I'm in favor of a percentage of net profit."

Board Treasurer Glen Gobin had a concern that one banner year might leave the Tribe paying a per capita it can't afford if the following year profits are down.

"It needs to be modified. If it's 2014 and we make $204 million, and this year we're projecting $199 million, that means you have an inflated per capita. I really support the concept, it just needs to be thought out a little more."

Motion 6

Danny Pablo, Sr., brought forward a vote of no confidence in Bill Olsen, the Casino Building Facilities Director. The vote passed with 132 for and 31 against.

Motion 7

Angela Tait brought forward a motion to give all employees at Tribal Government, Quil Ceda Village and the Tulalip Resort Casino, a 4% Cost of Living raise. The motion failed with 96 for and 191 against.

The treasurer confirmed that a 3% COLA increase would cost Tulalip $6.5 million.

Bingo Manager Tammy Taylor spoke against the raise. "We didn't make the money we should have made last year because we had to make up [increased costs for] medical and dental. What are you willing to give up for that?"

Marci Tyson also spoke against the motion, "Each of our team members work hard and we want to reward that. But today we can't afford that. I want to remind the General Council that last year we had a surplus, we decided, as a community, to increase our bonuses. Those were monies our board earmarked for COLA. We weren't able to do that. Believe me, we are losing people because they can go other places [and make more money]. It's something that's heavy on all our hearts. Today I can't support the 4% because we do not have the funds."

Ena Thornton, a Tulalip Resort Employee said, "I've been working in Food and Beverage for 12 years. I do believe we need an increase. I know that in my department, most of the tribals who come to my department don't stay. Most of the people helping run this place are non-tribal. We're not even making minimum wage. I might not agree with the 4%, but at the same time, this hasn't happened in a very long time. The only thing keeping people here is our benefits."

Motion 8

Ray Sheldon brought forward a motion to amend the Tulalip Tribes Employee Handbook to return arbitration of employee issues to tribal court and allow employees to bring in private counsel for appeals, to include a last chance agreement and to award employees attorney's fees and court costs if they win their appeal. The motion passed with 93 for and 67 against.

Motion 9

Pat Contraro brought forward a motion to rescind the Employee Handbooks and reinstate Title 9, and to require all handbooks to come before the General Council for approval. The motion failed.

Motion 10

Tammy Taylor brought forward a motion to name the Early Learning Center in honor of Ms. Betty J. Taylor for her 33 years of dedication to Tulalip children. The motion passed by voice vote.

Motion 11

Dean Henry brought forward a motion to name the Healing Lodge after Betty L. Henry in honor of her work in drug and alcohol recovery. The motion passed by voice vote.

Motion 12

Juanita Diaz brought forward a motion to create a committee to serve the victims of sexual crimes, create programs for spiritual healing, counseling and life skills and to adopt an ordinance that punishes sexual predators with public shaming and exclusion from the reservation. The motion failed due to lack of quorum.

Recycling is the process of collecting and processing materials that would otherwise be thrown away as trash and turning them into new products. Recycling benefits your community and the environment. As a sovereign tribal nation, the Tulalip Tribes' core values includes conserving natural resources and sustaining our surrounding environment for future generations. That is why two years ago the Tulalip Tribes set out to implement a tribal wide recycling initiative.

The Solid Waste department was renamed the Solid Waste and Recycling department and was put in charge of the step-by-step process to bring a recycle, reduce, and reuse mantra to the reservation.

The first step took place on the tribal government level. The Tulalip and Quil Ceda Village (QCV) administration buildings received new recycling bins that separated cans, paper, and plastic into their own compartments. These bins were placed in specific common areas of each floor within the Tulalip Administration Building. In some cases, like the commonly populated first floor reception area and second floor lunch area, more specific type of recycling collection bins were used. These bins designated trash/organic, cans, plastic, and white paper only into their compartment.

What started out as voluntary program with the larger, more specific recycling bins on each floor had to evolve as it was observed employees were continuing to put their recyclables in their desk-side garbage bin. The bottom line was that it was more convenient to put recyclables in the desk-side garbage, rather than getting up and walking to the end of isle recycling bins.

"When we started our recycling program about two years ago it was a very small program. Mostly only our tribal government buildings were participating," says Sam Davis, Solid Waste and Recycling Manager. "There wasn't a lot of participation. People weren't getting up and going to the end of the isles to dispose of their recycling, so last year I decided to make it easier and more convenient for everyone. We got these little desk-side recycling bins. We put the recycling bins at each and every desk. In all, we put over 700 desk-side recycling bins in tribal government buildings and Quil Ceda Village."

It's our way of looking out for our great-great-grandkids

Staff at Solid Waste and Recycling noticed a huge increase of recycling output once the smaller bins were put desk-side. It showed that Tulalip employees were consciously aware of what they could and couldn't recycle, but the recycling program has to be convenient as well.

In 2014, with the larger end-of-isle bins and smaller desk-side bins in place, the Tribal Government collected and recycled 40.76 tons (81,520 pounds) of recyclable materials. Before the implementation of the tribal wide recycling initiative all of that 40.76 tons of recyclable materials would have gone the way of garbage and sent to landfills.

"It's great to see the Tribal Government recycled 40.76 tons of paper, cardboard, plastic and aluminum," says Davis. "In the next two years I'd like to double that amount. If you were to walk around and look in employee's' garbage you'll still find recyclables in there. In 2014, the Tribal Government had an output of 726,820 pounds of garbage. I'd say that a 100,000 pounds of that is probably recyclable."

The second step of the tribal wide recycling initiative took place on the residential level. The Solid Waste and Recycling department made life easier for community members by providing curbside recycling pickup services. They provided a single-stream recycling bin that allows for community members to put all their recyclables into one bin without sorting. You have an easy way to reduce your impact on the environment and these materials are diverted from going into a landfill. The recycling collection crews come around on one of two days depending on your area and empty all curbside recycling bins. For Silver Village and Battle Creek residents, the pickup day is Thursday afternoon. For Y-site and Mission Highlands residents, the pickup day is Friday afternoon.

“Now, we have moved on to our tribal housing homes. We have put recycling bins at every single one of our housing homes except for the homes on the Quil, which is our next step,” continues Davis. “It’s been a step-by-step process because of the cost of each bin. It’s a onetime cost of $95 for each residential recycling bin, so it’ll take a while to recoup that cost, but in my eyes it’s worth it to not see all that recyclable material go to a landfill.

“It’s starting to get to where we want it to. Last month (February 2015) housing recycling did 4.41 tons, which is over 8,000 pounds. My goal is to get to 10,000 pounds a month for housing recycling.”

The residential housing recycling program started very slowly as recycling was a new concept for many in the Tulalip community, but, as the program continues to build momentum, more and more materials once considered garbage are now being recycled. In fact, Tulalip housing members are recycling nearly three times as much as they were only months ago. In October and November of 2014 there was an average of 1.81 tons of recycling collected, whereas in February 2015 there was 4.41 tons of recycling collected.

“I think it’s just people getting used to the program and us being consistent with our pickup. Knowing that we are actually doing something with it,” Davis says of the surge in residential recycling. “Follow through: I think that’s a big thing is knowing that if they put in that little bit of extra time to sort thru and fill their recyclable bin that we are going to be there to pick it up. We want to continue to educate our tribal members so that everything that can be recycled is being recycled.

“Recycling is not just a cost savings for us, it’s our way of looking out for our great-great-grandkids. The future generations.”

Boys & Girls Club Auction held on Saturday, May 9 at the TRC.

“This is our 17th annual Boys & Girls Club auction for Tulalip. All the funds raised from the necklace keepsakes go into our restricted account and are used strictly for Tulalip Boys & Girls Club,” explains Diane Prouty, Program Director for Tulalip’s Boys & Girls Club. “In the past the funds have been used for building improvements, remodels, a new roof, and whatever needs to be done in that form.

“The necklaces we are making sell for $100 apiece. The kids help put them in the bags so they have had their hands on them, but they are too intricate to have the kids make them. We have volunteers from the Resort Casino and all other entities to help come in and make these necklaces. Its wonderful people want to come in on their lunch and help. It’s great because it’s all for the kids.”

Every year the Boys & Girls Club annual auction has a theme and this year’s is a Seahawks theme. The hand-made necklaces consist of Seahawks colored beads (blue and green) and bone carved beads, including an orca tail center ornament.

When the necklace making concluded for the day the volunteers had made about 60 necklaces. They have many more to make at the next necklace making session on Monday, March 30 from 11:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. in the upstairs conference room located behind the Casino, accessible through the Casino Administration entrance. No experience is necessary to help make these necklaces and support our Tulalip youth. As an added incentive the TRC provides a complimentary catered lunch for all volunteers.

“We made about 60 necklaces for the Boys & Girls Club Auction. These necklaces are part of the fundraising we will be doing during the auction,” says Anita Rutherford, Administrative Assistant to the President & EVP at Tulalip Resort Casino. “If you can come and help us next Monday, March 30 from 11:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. we appreciate your support for the Tulalip Boys & Girls Club.

“Diane Prouty will be here with all the beads and wire. No experience is necessary! We will meet again in the Upstairs Conference Room located behind the Casino (go to the Administration Entrance). Lunch will be at noon. Call 6-1111 if you need directions. Thank you, I hope to see everyone next Monday. We can get this done for the kids!”

TULALIP TEAM SWEEPS THROUGH GAME TOURNAMENT

Article and photos by Brandi N. Montreuil

Tulalip Boys & Girls Club gaming team had an incredible performance at this year's annual Snohomish County Boys & Girls Club Game Tournament on March 7. Players in the Tulalip team took home 12 medals, including several first place spots in a variety of game categories.

The annual event brings together club teams from around the county to compete in games such as bumper pool, checkers, pool, foosball, ping-pong and card games. This year the event was held at the Everett Boys & Girls Club.

The Tulalip team placed in the top three slots for each game category. Gaylan Grey placed first in checkers and pool, and second in bumper pool. Terrance Phillips second in ping-pong, Mauricio Garcia first in foosball, Joshua Miranda third in pool, and Maximo Gonzalez third in checkers. Matthew Miranda placed first in ping-pong and second in foosball, while Marcella Gonzalez placed second in speed cards and Ayrik Miranda placed first in pool and third in bumper pool.

Tulalip Games Room Director Jay Miranda explains the tournament is more than just a bunch of kids playing games. Unlike other popular sport choices such as basketball and football, games in the tournament are played individually. They also help the kids develop skills that they can use later in life.

"These games teach the kids strategic thinking, along with critical thinking skills. Bumper pool and pool are games about angles which helps in math at school because they have to look at the angles before they make their move. They have to calculate before they shoot," said Miranda, who has been the director for just under year and incorporates a philosophy of fair play and respect with players.

"I tell the kids, when you get older you will learn life isn't fair, but as long as you keep trying you will overcome the things that seem unfair in life. I tell them to always play to win," said Miranda.

Unlike other clubs in the Boys & Girls Club of America chain, the club at Tulalip is uniquely tailored to the population it serves, which has a large percentage of Native American youth.

"We teach more than just the rules of the games. We teach about having morals and standards for personal growth and we incorporate traditional cultural teachings in our club," Miranda said. "If there was no games room it would impact the other departments in the club with an overflow of kids. The games room gives them a competitive outlet. If we lose the games room, the kids lose the feeling of accomplishment."

"This year was a great accomplishment," Miranda said. "In last year's tournament we had only three players, but this year we had seven and they did great."

Tribal Gaming Commission vacancies

Submitted by Gilla American Horse, TGC Secretary/HR Officer, Tulalip Tribal Gaming Agency

To all interested parties, there are three (3) vacancies on the Tribal Gaming Commission. The Board of Directors is seeking letters of interest in order to appoint three (3) Commissioners. The individuals chosen to fill these vacancies will serve the remaining terms as vacated by:

- Howard Brown - 1 year and 3 months
- Shelly Lacy - 1 year and 8 months
- Joy Lacy - 2 years and 8 months

In accordance with the Tulalip Tribal Code 10.05.030 Regulatory Commission, agency and functions:

(iv) In case of a vacancy on the TGC, the Board shall appoint a Commissioner to fill such vacancy for the remainder of the term of the Commissioner that is being replaced or, upon written notice to the TGC, permit the vacancy to remain unfilled for the remainder of the term if the next Tribal general election to fill the vacancy will fall within three months of the occurrence of the vacancy. In the event the vacancy prohibits the TGC from establishing a quorum, the Board will immediately appoint a Commissioner to fill such vacancy, subject to qualifications for Commissioners under this chapter; and pay the TGC-established licensing fees for the appointed Commissioner.

As stated in Tulalip Tribal Code 10.05.030 Regulatory Commission, agency and functions:

(b) Qualifications.

(i) No employee of:

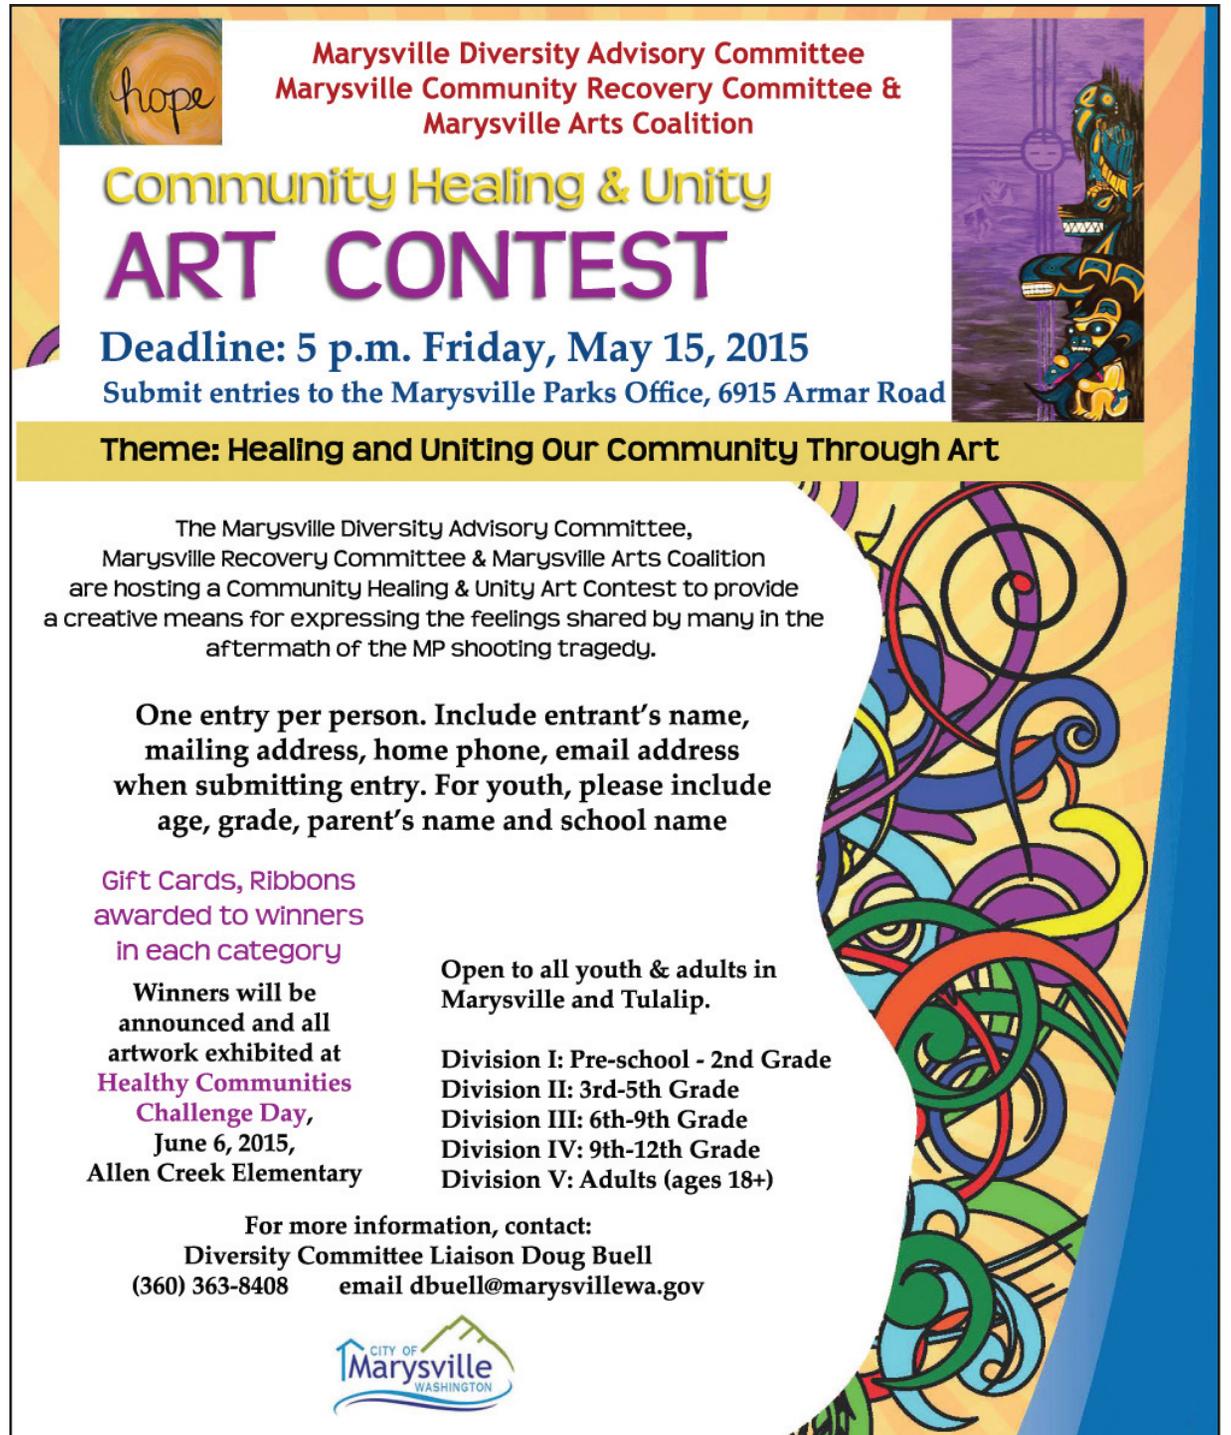

- (A) The TGO;
- (B) Any Tribally licensed Class II or III gaming operation; or
- (C) Any non-Tribally licensed gaming operation; may be a Commissioner.

(ii) No person may be a Commissioner unless such person:

- (A) Is a duly enrolled member of the Tribes;
- (B) Is at least 21 years of age; and
- (C) Has never been convicted of a felony, or a misdemeanor involving dishonesty.

In addition, the persons selected for the position of Commissioner shall submit to a background investigation and must be qualified to receive a Category A Tribal Gaming License. All interested parties should contact Jeff Hatch, Deputy Director of Licensing, Tulalip Tribal Gaming Agency at 360-913-3192 for more information regarding background investigation and licensing qualifications.

Submit your letter of interest to the Board of Directors, 6406 Marine Dr NW, Tulalip WA 98271. The deadline to submit your letter is Friday, April 17, 2015.

Come As You Are

There are a lot of big ideas but where is all this money coming from?

The March 18 article regarding our reservation and that we should be looking like our “Four Star Hotel” or Cabella’s and that the new houses that were built around Tulalip Bay that are up for sale should bring our Tribal area into something us Tribal Members should be proud of and would make us more like the non-tribal outside world.

My question is just how much did these so called fabulous houses cost and where did the money come from? None of them are yet sold. As a Tribal member I would like to have a printout in the paper showing total cost for the material, labor hours for each house as well as the total number of houses that have been built. The housing department has been working on them for over a year and every time I go past I see another off-reservation installation truck working on the houses. There should be a breakdown on how much each house cost to build. You keep adding more to them, lawns, shrubs, etc.

If you are trying to sell or rent these houses, you need to let us tribal members know the price of the house, the cost for water, sewer and electricity and land rental as the land is tribal land and the owner would have to lease the land and they can never own it. This would let tribal members will know just how much a month they would have to put out to own or rent a house.

I for one am proud of the private houses owned by tribal members on our reservation and we have nothing to be ashamed of as we bought and paid for them. I for one don’t want a million dollar house just so I can say my house is better than yours!!

When this all started several years ago the Board of Directors advised tribal members that the land around Tulalip Bay would no longer be leased to non-tribal and once their lease expired there were no more renewals and they would return it to its natural state so all tribal members would have access to Beach property. I don’t know who changed the Board’s mind but all Tribal members should have access to our beaches.

I believe before any further construction of homes, the homes currently built should be sold or rented. I for one would not want to purchase a house and pay the big bucks if my neighbor’s house was a rental house.

There are a lot of big ideas but just where is all this money coming from? Tribal members need to be advised on these big plans as it is our money. What happened to the 5 year plan or was there ever one?

Response To Chairwoman of the Tulalip Gaming Commission interview

I read the response from the Chairwoman of the “Advisory Tribal Gaming Commission” regarding the Board changing the Gaming Commission to Advisory only and need to respond.

No one asked those who resigned from the Gaming Commission or myself a former Chair-woman of the Commission if we wanted to be interviewed for further explanation from the Commissioners. I feel I need to provide my concerns regarding clarification on some of the points.

The Chairwoman stated her response regarding effects this may have on our Tribe and her response was “Tulalip has one of the most respected Gaming facilities in the nation.”

My response is “This is absolutely true but who is responsible for this since we have been seen as one of the top Gaming facilities for the past 20 years.” It is not the direct supervision of the Board of Directors, as prior to the Board changing the tribal Ordinance in 2014 to making the “Gaming Commission” an Advisory only, it was the sole responsibility of the Gaming Commissioners to have direct supervision over the Tulalip Gaming Agency staff. In the former ordinance language the elected 7 Gaming Commissioners had direct supervision over TGA staff as well as to insure TGA stayed within their budget. The staff had authority to be directly responsible to insure all the rules and regulations involving gaming that were enacted by the Tribe, Federal Government and the State were followed by all of our gaming facilities. The former Gaming Commission met twice a month and went over all of the violation reports as well as the Gaming Facilities financial reports to insure they were in order.

The Gaming Commission has always been directly under the Board of Directors but we had the direct supervision over TGA staff. Now TGA staff are under the Tulalip General Manager and who knows who else and the Advisory Tribal Gaming Commission are merely a go between to meet with TGA staff and hear whatever the TGA staff wish to share with them as they have no more authority over them. TGA staff are now under the supervision of the Tribal General Manager who is directly under the Board of Directors. You can never convince me there will be no family priority if individuals are allowed to go to the Board over cases they are involved with or someone violates the gaming regulations or laws at our gaming facilities. As tribal members we know how the system works.

There are very strict laws regarding licensing employees at the casino to insure they have no criminal background that could compromise the integrity of the casino or an employee could get into restricted areas as it would be very easy for anyone to overlook a person’s background and misplace their files.

I was on the Gaming Commission from 1992 until I resigned in 2014 and I can assure you the Board only met with the Gaming Commission once or twice a year.

Thank you,
Virginia Carpenter,
Former Gaming Commissioner

Will there ever be a boy born that can swim faster than a shark?

"Leading sharkologists have noticed that sharks are just getting lazier and lazier with each generation. So, who knows? We might stand a chance if this trend continues."

Rick V.
Tribal employee
"Not a marine biologist"

"Yes, I do believe one day a boy will be born who can swim faster than a shark, and no longer will we fear the deep dark blue."

Maria Martin
Tribal Member
Seafood connoisseur

"In about 10,000 years, yeah."

Andrew Gobin
Tribal Member

"If I were to get pregnant now, listen only to my classic 'Sounds of the Ocean' CD and adhere to a strict exercise regime of extreme dolphin kicks for 3.8 hours per day – and factoring in the rumor that sharks are getting lazier – I think I could birth such a being."

Kim Kalliber
Tribal employee
Avid watcher of Shark Week
