SKATE ON

New skate park opens at Tulalip

Article/photos by Micheal Rios

It was back on May 3, 2014 that the Tulalip Board of Directors made a motion to approve funding to build a community skate park. The skate park's purpose is to give Tulalip youth another recreational opportunity, while offering alternative sport modalities to youth not interested in the most popular reservation activities, such as basketball, volleyball, and weight lifting. Nearly 21 months after the Board motion, after much careful planning and collaboration with Tulalip skateboarders, the Debra Barto Memorial Skate Park officially opened on Friday, February 19.

Skate Park from front page

There has always been a passion for skateboarding amongst Tulalip youth, but they didn't have an outlet for that passion or a location to showcase their skateboarding skills on the reservation until now. The newly minted Tulalip skate park cost an estimated $400,000 and is nearly 12,000 square feet in size. It features a variety of skating elements including half-pipes, quarter-pipes, ramps, bowls, and grinding rails.

Ours is but one of the growing number of skate parks being built on Pacific Northwest reservations to address the recreational needs of Native youth. Recently, the Port Gamble S'Klallam, Muckleshoot, and Lummi reservations have opened skate parks of their own.

Seattle-based Grindline Skatepark, Inc was contracted for the design and construction of Tulalip's skate park. Grindline emphasizes community engagement during the design process, and that was displayed during a number of collaboration meetings Grindline designers had with Tulalip skateboarders and the Board of Directors.

Grindline, who also built the Port Gamble S'Klallam skate park, is well-known for creating progressive and engaging skate parks with a design philosophy that each be tailored to its users and existing surroundings. To tailor to the Tulalip location, key aspects of our culture can be found in the skate park as stylized representations of a lake, river, waves and even an orca tail fin.

Prior to the ribbon cutting ceremony held at the skate park, there was a presentation to honor the skate park's namesake Debra Parto. According to those who knew her best, her friends and family, Debra was a beautiful, kind and gentle spirit who had a nurturing energy to all. She loved helping people and supporting the youth in the Tulalip community.

Debra was familiar with skateboarding through her children and their friends. She became a big supporter of the sport and all of the youth who participated in it. For many years, she would listen to the youth's dream of having their own skate park in Tulalip and she started dreaming with them. Debra was determined to see the youth's dream to have skate park built on the reservation come to fruition. She supported youth in the request for funding in 2014.

Debra passed away June 24 of breast cancer at age 49, but her determination lived on through her children and all those youth she dreamed with. Now, we are able to honor her for her fight, encouragement, support and love with what is now the Debra Barto Memorial Skate Park.

"She wanted to make sure the young ones were happy and they have a fun, safe place to go," said Debra's son Shane McLean. "When you're out there skating, you fall down a lot and get a lot of scrapes and bruises. That's how I think my mom's life was, with a lot of ups and downs, but she always got back up and kept on doing her thing."

Having a skate park in our community will address many of the goals the Board and Youth Service workers are tasked to achieve for our Native youth. Understanding the need to support the youth who wish to pursue healthy, active lifestyles and provide them a safe and fun area to progress in their athletic interests has remained a constant mission for the Tulalip Tribes.

The commitment to Tulalip youth is commendable and goes to show we will continue to invest in them. As Board of Director Theresa Sheldon said at the ribbon cutting ceremony, "The true leaders are our youth, and any time we can give them a voice and a platform then that's what we'll do."

In the next syəcəb issue we will be detailing the opening of the Alpheus Gunny Jones Sr. Ball Field. With the additions of the ball field and our skate park, the popular Tulalip Youth Center will continue to grow in capacity and further diversify the activities local youth can participate in.

Healthy food and healthy community are key to diabetes prevention

Article/photos by Niki Cleary

Exercise, laughter and hugs, fresh air and a sense of accomplishment were some of the gifts about 50 community members gave themselves on Saturday, February 20. The Healthy Gardening Gathering, hosted by the Karen I. Fryberg Health Clinic's Diabetes Care and Prevention Program, was much bigger than a seminar on gardening and preparing healthy meals; it was a reminder that peer pressure can be a good thing. The effort, which involved preparing new garden beds for the Clinic gardens, more importantly provided a place to build fellowship and support for wholesome living.

Members of the WSU Master Gardeners program were onsite to offer their knowledge and enthusiasm about gardening. Many of the volunteers who joined in have worked with each other before, some have helped out at the Hibulb gardens, some are part of the Diabetes Prevention Program, others participate in the Wisdom Warriors program. Their common ground (pun intended) is a desire to live well and enjoy life.

Toddlers, elders and all ages in between joined the fun. If you are interested in learning to garden, if you want to eat healthier and exercise more, or if you're just looking for some fun people to hang out with email Veronica Leahy for more information vleahy@tulaliptribesnsn.gov.

Coming up, the Diabetes Program has two field trips, one for a Padilla Bay nature walk on March 11, and one for a Heronswood nature walk and plant sale, April 2. Upcoming classes and education include Diabetes Day March 3, a set of Diabetes comprehensive classes March 9, 16, 23 and 30. Additional gardening opportunities will be available at the Clinic gardens April 16 and June 11, and at the Hibulb Gardens March 5 and 12.

Planning, maintenance and mitigation

A lot goes into running a city

By Theresa Sheldon

This month we decided to focus on the interesting things that happened at Quil Ceda Village's February monthly council meeting.

As a reminder, the Quil Ceda Village Council is comprised of myself as president, Glen Gobin and Marie Zackuse, we were sworn in during the June council meeting. This responsibility has been delegated to three existing Board members as outlined in the Quil Ceda Village Charter that establishes the city's governmental infrastructure.

Quil Ceda Village has roughly 180 employees who fulfill the tasks necessary to run our 2,000 acre federally recognized city. The staff work hard to ensure the city is functioning properly and is safe for visitors. Here are some fun facts, we have over 20,000 sprinkler heads in the Village, and there are over 55,000 cars passing in and out of the Village daily.

116th interchange

With that in mind, traffic flow is a constant concern. We want to make sure people can access the city easily from I-5 both entering and leaving the village. Tulalip and our partners have invested $32 million into the 116th interchange project which is scheduled to be complete in September 2016.

The $32 million comes from a variety of sources. The Snohomish County ($1 million) and the Puget Sound Regional Council ($8 million) have contributed to this regional project. The remainder of the funds have been provided by fuel and cigarette taxes collected within Quil Ceda Village ($23 million). All the funds I've described are just for the bridge deck, which is phase three of the project. Most city's receive sales taxes and other taxes to offset the cost of major transportation projects. Unfortunately we do not receive any of the sales tax generated in our city, yet, therefore we have to get creative with funding. It may not seem fair that we have to fund the majority of a major regional interchange project and we would agree with you. On a positive note our fuel tax funds can only be spent on transportation and infrastructure as outlined in our compact agreement with the state so putting the fuel tax funds into 116th is a solid investment.

The fourth phase will be the ramps. The ramps on the other hand will be funded by the Washington State Transportation funding package that was voted on by the people in the last elections so thank you for voting yes! Construction on the ramps will not begin until 2017, when the funding becomes available by the state.

Unlike many municipalities, Quil Ceda Village mitigates traffic impacts prior to economic development. Back in the late 1990s when we first began developing within the city, we anticipated the increased volume of traffic the Village would create. We paid for almost all of the funding for the overhaul of the 88th street I-5 interchange. We did that to provide direct access into the city. For many years 88th street was just a bridge deck that went nowhere. Our past leaders knew how important this interchange was going to be so they paid for the majority of it and put in the ramps many years after the bridge deck was complete.

Some assume that the work happening at 116th is to mitigate current traffic visiting Quil Ceda Village's existing businesses but the majority of traffic goes into Marysville and the unincorporated Snohomish County so this expansion is for future growth. In order to develop the west side of 27th Ave between 88th and 116th, we need to expand traffic capacity, which is why a new overpass at 116th is needed. This is also why the city hopes to bring in a new master planner so we can map out the next phase of the city. What will be next? A family fun center, an olympic-size swimming pool center, a kids zone? We don't know but we will soon find out.

Policing in QCV

Quil Ceda Village does not employ a police force or court system. The Tulalip Police Department and Tulalip Tribal Court provide law and justice services to the village via contract. On a monthly basis the Quil Ceda Village Council hears a report about law and safety activities within the city.

As with any municipality with a high volume of traffic, the Village sees a lot of criminal predation, 40% of calls that come through the Tulalip Police Dispatch Center are for services in Quil Ceda Village. We have a very responsive police force and that goes a long way in keeping our city safe.

In a recent case where a large quantity of merchandise was stolen from the Burberry outlet store, Tulalip detectives conducted an investigation and were able to arrest those involved and return the property.

Another source of concern within the Village is an increasing population of transients. It's a heartbreaking situation. We see crime committed by transient citizens and we enforce laws to create a safer atmosphere, however we also know that some of these citizens have deeper issues and need help so they can become healthier. Quil Ceda Village staff are working with local non-profit organizations to find ways to make social services available to transient and homeless people living within or near Quil Ceda Village.

Sewage, maintenance and repair

A good portion of our monthly meetings are devoted to the general housekeeping involved in running a city. We were educated about and approved costs for upkeep of our sewage system. We discussed and approved site surveys within the city. We also learned about some of the repairs needed within the retail center due to water damage that occurred during the replacement of the roof.

As we look to continue to grow the city, we will have to build additional infrastructure. Within the next few years, we'll need to start the next phase of the sewer treatment plant, which will double the plant's capacity. As it stands, on the busiest day in the city which is the day after Thanksgiving, aka Tulalip Day, our sewer plant is nearing capacity. A lot of people just flush the toilet and wash their hands without thinking where that waste goes. We at the city know and have to be prepared for it.

If you are ever interested in attending a Quil Ceda Village Council meetings, the meetings are open to the public. They are typically held the third Tuesday of every month, starting at 9:00 a.m.

Lopsided 2nd quarter dooms the Hawks in 48-68 loss

On Saturday, February 13, the Tulalip Heritage Hawks (14-9) traveled to Seattle Lutheran High School to play their opening game of the Tri-District Tournament. Their opponent was the Shorewood Christian Lions (16-3). It would be a matchup of #2s, as the Hawks finished #2 in the Northwest 1B league and the Lions finished #2 in the SeaTac 1B league.

The Hawks were hoping to build off their play-in victory over the Muckleshoot Kings just days before.

In the 1st quarter, the two teams traded baskets repeatedly with Robert Miles doing his best to match the scoring output of the Lions' best player, Jovi Fevaleaki. At the end of the quarter the Hawks were very much in it, trailing by only 1 point 14-15.

However, things turned drastically for the Hawks in the 2nd quarter. The offense completely disappeared for the Hawks. They repeatedly settled for long-range, contested jumpers and were unable to attack the rim. Add in their turnovers and it's no wonder that the Lions opened the quarter with a 15-0 run. The Hawks didn't score until late in the quarter when Willy Enick connected on a 3-pointer. Willy added in another basket to give his team their only 5 points of the 2nd quarter. At halftime the Hawks trailed 19-36.

Following the halftime intermission things didn't get any better for the Hawks. The offense continued to struggle with the size and athleticism of the Lions, while defensively they were unable to contain Jovi Fevaleaki who finished with a game high 27 points.

The Hawks lost the game 48-68, and would be put in a loser-out game vs. their league rivals the Orcas Christian Saints.

Hawks defense steps up big time in 43-37 win

Following the loss to Shorewood Christian, the Tulalip Heritage Hawks (14-10) found out their post-season hinged on a loser-out game vs. in league rivals, the Orcas Christian Saints (15-2). It wasn't a matchup that appeared to be in the Hawks favor, as they had lost all three regular season matchups with the Saints. In fact, the Saints had won those three games by an average margin of 18 points per game. But in the playoffs anything can happen.

After the 1st quarter the Hawks found themselves trailing 7-11 and struggling to find their offense. On the positive side, the Hawks were liking their defensive intensity, especially on Saints point guard Michael Harris. Harris, who had given the Hawks defensive fits all season long, was constantly hounded by Nashone Whitebear.

Things continued in the 2nd quarter with the Hawks not converting their shots, but continuing to play strong defense and not letting Harris beat them. At halftime the Hawks trailed by only 4 points, 15-19. It was by far the lowest scoring 1st half the Hawks had been a part of all season.

During the intermission, the Hawks realized the ball was sticking too much on offense and wanted to move the ball more in the 2nd half; more passing to open up quality looks for their shooters. On defense, they just wanted to keep up the tempo and to continue making everything difficult for Harris while continuing to crash the boards.

In the 3rd quarter, the Hawks finally got their offense going. They scored 15 points in the 3rd, as much as they scored in both the 1st and 2nd quarters combined. The solid defense was still in effect and to this point they had held the Saints best player to only 3 points. Going into the final quarter the Hawks had taken a 30-29 lead.

The ball continued to move well for the Hawks and they found open looks for Josh Iukes who came up huge for his team in the clutch. Josh and Robert Miles both scored a game-high 15 points and it would be good enough in the low scoring game to take the victory. After losing their first three matchups with the Saints, they made the necessary adjustments and found the will to win in a 43-37 thriller for the Hawks. With the victory the Hawks season remained alive and they were guaranteed two more Tri-District games.

Tulalip Hawks get pummeled by Neah Bay, 45-106

Just when things were looking up for the Heritage Hawks (15-10), after a hard fought victory over the best team in our league, things came to a crashing halt at the hands of the Neah Bay Red Devils (16-3). The two teams played on Wednesday, February 17, at Evergreen Lutheran High School in a 3rd round matchup of the Tri-District tournament.

The game started out as a competitive one, with the Hawks and Red Devils both executing their offense. Just under four minutes into the 1st quarter the game was tied at 11-11. Then it all went south for the Hawks. The Red Devils finished the quarter on a 20-2 run to take a commanding 31-13 lead.

The Hawks did what they could offensively, scoring 17 points in the 2nd quarter, but they just had no answer defensively for the Red Devils who were shooting lights out. At halftime the Hawks trailed 30-55.

Things only got worse in the 2nd half for the Hawks, as Neah Bay continued to pile on the points with little fight from Tulalip. Getting outscored 6-27 in the 3rd quarter and 9-24 in the 4th quarter added up to a 45-106 loss for the Hawks. This game goes down as easily the worse loss for the Heritage Hawks basketball program in years.

Luckily, the Hawks get a shot at redemption with a huge upcoming game against Lummi Nation. With a win, the Hawks will play on at Regionals, but if they lose their season will be over.

Adiya leads Lady Hawks past Seattle Lutheran, 48-37

Article/photos by Micheal Rios

The Tulalip Heritage Lady Hawks (21-0) went undefeated during their regular season, won out to claim the District 1-1B title, and were looking to keep their dominant run in tact as they played the Seattle Lutheran Saints (13-7) in the Tri-District Tournament semi-finals. The game was played on Tuesday, February 16 at Mount Vernon Christian High School.

It was obvious from the early going that the Saints had no answer for senior standout Adiya Jones, as she routinely got to her spots, hit shot after shot, all the while collecting rebounds. Adiya started the game red hot; connecting on 7 of 8 shot attempts and chipped in three free-throws. At halftime she had 18 points and more importantly the Lady Hawks held a 9 point lead, 28-19.

In the 2nd half, Adiya picked up a technical for commenting on a sketchy foul call. The resulting technical meant she would have to sit a stretch. With Adiya on the bench, the Lady Hawks did their best to score buckets and grab rebounds. Keryn Parks and Cyena Fryberg were rewarded with their hustle play, as both finished the game with 9 rebounds apiece.

The Saints managed to carve away at the Lady Hawks lead and towards the end of the 3rd quarter they only led by 5 points, 33-28. Enter Adiya back in the ball game. From that point on the Lady Hawks finished the game strong by holding the Saints to only 9 points the remainder of the way. In the end, the Lady Hawks won by 11 points, 48-37. Adiya led all scorers and had a very impressive stat line: 32 points, 17 rebounds, 4 assists, 6 steals and 4 blocks.

Up next for the Lady Hawks is the Tri-District championship game where they will face off against the Mount Vernon Christian Hurricanes. The Hurricanes almost handed the Lady Hawks their first defeat the last time they played back in the District playoffs. In that game the Lady Hawks managed to escape with a 39-38 victory thanks to a last minute bucket by Aliya Jones.

Look for all the details of the Tri-District championship game and Regional coverage in the next issue of the syacab.
