Newly elected Board Members sworn in

By Micheal Rios

During last month's General Council, tribal members Glen Gobin and Misty Napeahi received the two highest vote totals in a very closely contested Board of Directors election. The pair were sworn in officially as Tulalip Tribes

Board of Directors and began their three-year terms on Saturday, April 6.

In front of a jam-packed Board Room audience, Misty and Glen were sworn in by Reservation Attorney Michelle Sheldon. The two are replacing longtime

Tulalip seniors visit Tulip Festival

By Calvin Valdillez

Every April, people travel from around the world to the outskirts of Mount Vernon, Washington to witness thousands of tulips burst into bloom at the Skagit Valley Tulip Festival, officially welcoming the arrival of the spring season. At two featured sites, Roozengaarde and Tulip Town, spectators are treated to a stunning visual experience provided by Mother Earth, and the bulb growers as well.

Since its inception thirty-four years ago, the festival continues to grow in popularity, garnering more and more tulip enthusiasts each year. The tulip festival is

Board member Marie Zackuse and one-term incumbent Bonnie Juneau.

“I’d like to acknowledge and thank the membership of the Tulalip Tribes who have supported me through the years,” reflected exiting Chairwoman Marie Zackuse. “I’m truly grateful for the two tribal members who asked me in 1990 to run for Board. Collectively, the different Boards I’ve been a part of gave a lot of insight, knowledge, and truth, while always reminding all of us we cannot forget where we came from with the early leaders who set the foundation for us all.”

Marie was the first elected Chairwoman in the history of the Tulalip Tribes. Previously the Vice Chairwoman, she had served on the Board of Directors since April 1990. Marie also holds the distinction of longest serving female in Board history.

“When you go into election time, sometimes you’re running for election against people that you care about. It makes it difficult, but we all want what’s best for our tribe,” said Glen, now serving as Vice Chairman. “The elders want us to help the community and bring us back together in a good way, to work as one people in the best interests of our next generation.”

Glen has owned and operated a successful construction company for many years, and also continues a lifelong tradition of commercial fishing and staying active in many cultural and community activities. He is married with four children and four grandchildren and resides on the reservation.

Misty has spent her career dedicated to the Tulalip Tribes, holding various positions at both tribal government and the casino. She holds a bachelor’s degree in Business Administration from Columbia College. Misty brings more than twenty-three years of experience in tribal government processes and systems.

“I have a deep sense of responsibility to my community and I’m grateful for the opportunity to serve in this capacity as a Board of Director,” stated Misty, now serving as Treasurer. “I’m very thankful to my grandpa, Herman Williams Sr., for signing my petition, mentoring me, and being my rock. A lot of things have happened in a very short time. Some of those things have been good and some have been painful, but I look forward to us moving forward together in the best way for all of our membership. I’m truly dedicated to honoring our membership by keeping them informed and part of the process.”

In year three of her Board of Director term, Teri Gobin is now serving as Chairwoman. After taking her new seat as Chairwoman, Teri said, “We look forward to moving ahead in a positive way and bringing the community back together. We have a lot of work to do from housing to healthcare to the opioid addiction, but we are going to get through this together and in a positive way.”

in fact Washington State's biggest festival, attracting over one million participants annually.

This year, the Tulalip Senior Center organized a trip for the local elders of the community to join in on the outdoor fun at the festival and witness the beauty of Mother Nature firsthand. Eleven elders met bright and early at the Tulalip Dining Hall on the morning of April 9, and made the hour-long journey north to Roozengaarde Flowers and Bulbs, a family owned establishment that has been in the tulip growing business for over seventy years.

Arriving well before the rush, the seniors had plenty of time to walk about the enormous garden and admire the tulips without feeling overcrowded or pressured community to enjoy a springtime activity as well as get some fresh air and 'to get out and get moving'.

"We thought it was a fun idea to bring the seniors out here today," explained Jessica Leslie, the Senior Center Manger's Assistant. "We left at nine this morning to come and walk around the tulip fields. It's beautiful out here. They're not fully in bloom yet, but we just wanted to get out and go for a walk. We like to get our seniors out and about to see different things. Some of them don't drive, so we try to bring them places to do fun stuff like this and get them out of the house to break up the routine a bit."

The elders broke off into small groups as they made their way through the to hurry along. Rows and rows of tulips, varying in all different types of vibrant red, pink, yellow, purple and white colors, were just beginning to bloom during the seniors visit, generating a lot of oohs and ahhs as well as several smiles from the elders, as they stooped low to get an up-close look at the flowers.

The idea was originally presented by Tulalip elder, Barbara Jones, when brainstorming field trip destinations for the seniors. She stated that she thought it would be a great way for the fellow elders of the garden, enjoying company and exploring hundreds of acres of tulips, as well as daffodils, for approximately an hour-and-a-half. The seniors finished their self-led tours just on time as people began to arrive by the carload with their cameras in hand, to capture the gorgeous flowers as they began to open up.

The elders also enjoyed a picnic lunch and visited the Roosengaard merchandise shop where they could purchase any of the tulips that were on display to take home and add to their personal garden.

"It finally feels like spring is here," expressed Tulalip elder, Tina Lyle. "It feels great to be out here, it wakes you up and brings your senses alive and strengthens our connection to the Earth. The tulips are all so beautiful, the blood orange ones are my favorite so far. And to come out here with other Tulalip seniors is special. If you get a chance, you got to come up here and enjoy it and see the tulips in-person for yourself."

The Skagit Valley Tulalip Festival will continue for the duration of April and will feature a variety of events including the annual Tulip Parade. Roozengaarde Flowers and Bulbs is open daily from 9:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m., while Tulip Town is open from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. For directions and more information, please visit www.TulipFestival.org

Fun-filled spring break for Tulalip youth

By Micheal Rios

Every student hopes to have a cool spring break. One where they can make memories galore with their friends and family so they have fun-filled stories to tell when school resumes. Fortunately, in Tulalip we have two dedicated teams in our Youth Services Department and local Boys & Girls Club who coordinated a whole week of kid-friendly activities to keep our youth occupied during April 1 to April 5.

This year, the staff of Youth Services planned a week of teenager approved activities and overall good times during the 6th-12th grade annual time off from class. The week started with a series of indoor tournaments (e-sports, board games, etc.) giving ample opportunities for youth to claim prizes and bragging rights. Day's following were filled with BINGO, a bus ride to Tukwila to experience Family Fun Center, Alfy's pizza and multiple arcades. Finally, the week came to a close with a premiere showing of the latest superhero movie Shazam!

A highlight of their week was a Thursday morning spent having elevated fun at Altitude trampoline park. Sixty-five teenagers remained active on the main jumping zones. Some played 8-on-8 trampoline dodgeball, while the hoopers of the bunch held a slam dunk contest.

"As a mom, having spring break activities provided by Youth Services and the Boys & Girls Club for our children is a blessing," shared Sarah Murphy, Y.S. Activities Supervisor and mother of nine. "Keeping the youth busy with positive activities helps to keep them out of trouble and away from danger!"

"To see the youth come together, creating memories and sharing nothing less than smiles assures me that as employees, we are exactly where we need to be. It's so important for Y.S staff to teach healthy activities and programs. We take great pride in providing a safe place to hang out and a positive environment to share love and memories," continued Sarah.

While the Tribe's teenagers were preoccupied with their own version of fun, the always energetic, elementary-aged students were having a blast of their own at Tulalip's Boys & Girls Club. Participation soared this year, with nearly 130 kids per day joining in on all the Club's offerings.

The youngsters started off their week with Monday's variety of "minute to win it" games yielding prizes to winner after winner until everyone had a prize. Tuesday's glow party and Wednesday's chalk war were definite hits. Then on Thursday the Boys and Girls Club youth took a field trip to Everett Skate Deck where they took over the skating rink. With countless loops around the rink, the kids skated to their hearts desire while dancing to all the classic roller skating songs. Wrapping up their week away from school, the imaginative kiddos put on a talent show that proved a rising tide of Baby Shark song and dances could still get a gym packed with kids and their parents grooving.

"It takes so much planning and dedication from our Club staff to make our spring break week an amazing experience for all the kids," said Diane Prouty, B&GC office manager. "Multiple times we had kids who were having so much fun they didn't want to go home. Seeing all the beaming smiles and such cute laughs from the kids makes it so worth it."

For the youth of Tulalip, spring break was a week of enjoying one activity after another with friends and cousins, while giving many working parents a stress-free way of managing five straight weekdays without the routine of school. Youth Services and the Boys & Girls Club made sure our youth remained fed and got their snack on, safe while going on off-rez adventures, and created priceless memories of fun experiences that kids can tell to their classmates now that they're back in school.

Stewards of Children Training

During our award-winning Stewards of Children prevention training, you'll meet survivors who lived through child sexual abuse, experienced its immediate and long-term effects, and ultimately were able to find healing. You'll meet experts who work with children and families and confront abuse on a daily basis. Lastly, you'll find concrete steps that you can take to protect the children in your life. Food provided. For questions or to reserve a spot contact Sydney Gilbert at sgilbert@tulaliptribes-nsn.gov.

Women's Self Defense Class

Come learn how to keep yourself safe through detection and deterrence of danger; how to defuse and de-escalate danger; and how to physically defend yourself in an encounter. The class is taught through presentations, discussions, real world situations and their outcomes, role playing scenarios, and physical confrontations with the staff in protective suits. Topics are serious so all participants must be 14 or older. Wear comfortable active clothing. Clothing may become stretched or damaged. Lunch provided. Class size limited to 16 people. Contact Elizabeth Plowman at elplowman@tulaliptribes-nsn.gov with questions and to sign up.

Mandatory Reporter Training

Learn about what it means to be a mandated reporter, and learn how to identify child abuse and neglect.

Child Abuse Panel

Have you ever wondered why child abuse investigations take so long? Or why does it seem like nothing happens when a disclosure is made? On the first four Mondays of April we will be hosting an informal panel made up of CPS investigators, law enforcement, Child Advocacy and Legacy of healing staff, and representatives of our legal team. Come meet our team and ask any question you may have about child abuse investigations.

Offered to people of all ages with diverse physical, emotional or cognitive abilities to further life goals through riding and general horsemanship skills.

EQUINE ENCOUNTERS

This is an unmounted class where participants interact directly with horses to understand and overcome individual situations. It is a safe place for At Risk Youth to develop relationship skills.

SENSATIONAL SENIORS

This program serves two purposes where elders can either choose to participate in class or become a volunteer.

PATH Certified Instructors
~ 501(c)(3) Nonprofit

Volunteers & Donors are a critical component for supporting the riders in our programs.
