The Tulalip Brand

When non-tribals think of the Tulalip Reservation, what do they think of? Surely some of the first things that would come to their minds are the Four Diamond rated Tulalip Resort Casino, the award winning fine dining restaurants therein, and the luxurious sanctuary that is the T Spa. For the upscale, fashion conscious individuals, they would assuredly think of the Seattle Premium Outlets that brings together the finest brands and cost-savings every day. Then there are those who would think of the essential shopping experiences provided by Quil Ceda Village stores, like Cabela's and Home Depot.

It's easy to understand why non-tribals, whether they be locals, visitors, long distance travelers or simply Washington State residents, would think of the exclusive experiences and premium services available to them on the Tulalip Reservation. First and foremost, the Tulalip Tribes has invested vast amounts of resources (money, time, manpower, more money) into creating the present-day image of Tulalip as a destination. From the early days of establishing the original Tulalip Casino in 1992, since rebranded as Quil Ceda Creek Casino in 2004, to the construction of the new Tulalip Bingo in 1999, to the inception of the ever expanding Quil Ceda Village in 2001, to the building of Tulalip Resort Casino in 2003 and followed by its accompanying hotel in 2008, the Tulalip Tribes has gone to great lengths and overcome many obstacles to create, develop, and brand itself as a tribal business leader.

Without question the planning, construction, and continued development of the Tulalip Tribes businesses and gaming enterprise has been first-rate. But those efforts, in large part, were aimed at crafting an enhanced image of the Tulalip Tribes from the outsider's perspective and to create the market place for building a strong, loyal customer base that yields plenty of return business. Turn inward and we, the Tulalip tribal membership, can see that while the reservation along the I-5 corridor is unrecognizable compared to what it was fifteen to twenty years ago, the heart of the reservation remains relatively underdeveloped and deficient of the exclusive qualities that the Tribes is associated with externally. However, like the memories of the brush and forest that once occupied Quil Ceda Village, that will soon be a distant memory. The entire Tulalip Bay area is about to receive a major upgrade in image.

Creating change by building neighborhoods

The Tulalip Bay Work Force Housing Program, created by the Tulalip Housing department and approved by the Board of Directors, will makeover the heart of the reservation in the same way Quil Ceda Village changed the exterior boundaries of the reservation.

Recently built home at Tulalip Bay.

The Tulalip Bay Work Force Housing Program was implemented in early 2014. It is a three step process that will drastically change rural Tulalip, for the better. The first step of the process is taking back the land, that has for far too long been accommodating to non-Tulalips. More specifically, the land within the 1.7 square mile residential area around Tulalip Bay. Piggy-backing off the ideals that led to all the houses being demolished and removed from Mission Beach in 2013, all the non-Tulalip owned homes in the Tulalip Bay area are going to be removed in order to return the land to where it belongs, to Tulalip.

As the land leases expire, one by one each non-Tulalip house will be demolished, either by the residing home owner or by the Tulalip Tribes for a fee.

“New tribal mandates state that those folks living in the Tulalip Bay houses do not have the option to renew their lease because the Tulalip Tribes has made it its mission to take back the land,” says Tom Eadie, Tulalip Housing Authority Administration Manager. “Current Tulalip Bay tenants were told that back around 2003. The owner of the home, when their lease expires, has 90 days to remove their home. If they haven't removed their home within the 90 days, then we remove their home and charge them the removal costs. At Mission Beach they removed their homes themselves. For Tulalip Bay, the opportunity to restore the beach-front would be available, potentially. We could have a several mile beach walk. It will be amazing, what we can do out there will be phenomenal.”

The second step of the Tulalip Bay Work Force Program is to build first-rate homes complete with top of the line appliances, immaculate fenced yards, and a house alarm. These will be beautiful homes, as evidenced by the first few that have been built already. Each featuring a multi-million dollar view overlooking stunning Tulalip Bay.

The second step also mandates that after the construction of the houses they will then be made available to Tulalip tribal members only, as either part of a home ownership program or as a rental. While most of the houses will be designated for home ownership, a fair share will be designated as rentals for those who are not in a position to buy a home. These newly built houses will become the homes of many Tulalip tribal members who would not otherwise have the opportunity to live on their reservation, and will help supplement the depleted housing market for our growing tribal membership.

“Everyone benefits from it in the long run. We can do a mix of rentals and home-ownership because we understand not everyone wants to own a home. Some people want to come and rent for a while and experience their reservation where their family is, and this gives them that opportunity,” explains Eadie. “You're not going to find a 1,600-1,700 square foot house, especially on the water or near the water, anywhere else for the low prices we will be offering.”

“You get to raise your kids in the heart of your reservation, and we'll be continuing to develop that area: new sidewalks, light posts, we're putting in a park, a really nice basketball court park right at Tulalip Bay. We'll be selling these gorgeous houses within the $220ish price range. The prices are incredibly low when you look at comparable markets. There is no place in the state of Washington with that view and so close to a beach-front that even comes close to what we are selling them for. You'd double that price elsewhere, easy."

The third and final step of the Tulalip Bay Work Force Housing Program involves the collaboration of both the Tulalip Housing department and the inherent responsibility of Tulalip tribal members. As the brand new houses are nearing completion and put on the market one by one,

Tulalip tribal members, whether it's for home ownership or to rent, must make themselves candidates in order to call a Tulalip Bay house their home. To have suitable, qualified Tulalip citizens and families stake their claim on the Tulalip Bay houses being built for them this means doing the necessities when it comes to preparing to buy or rent a new home on the Tulalip Reservation. Ways to be ready include meeting with a Housing department representative to discuss the qualifying considerations, and meeting with a 184 loan specialist and applying for a 184 loan if you want to become a Tulalip Bay home owner. Eadie explained that the standard operating procedures protect both you and the Tribes' interests.

Remember that the Tulalip Bay Work Force Housing Program is still in the beginning stages of implementation and houses will be built and made available over the next several years. This means that if you don't qualify to rent or purchase a Tulalip Bay home right now, that will not prevent you from renting or purchasing one of the many Tulalip Bay homes coming in the near future. Start on the path to becoming a qualified Tulalip Bay home owner or renter now. Start rebuilding your credit now. Start saving money for down payments and first/last month's rent now. If you want to become a member of what will surely become a thriving Tulalip Bay neighborhood, then now is the time to start investing in that future.

Look for more details on the Tulalip Bay Work Force Housing Program in upcoming issues of the See-Yaht-Sub.

Tulalip Police Department recognize own for outstanding service

Article by Brandi N. Montreuil

"Honoring one honors us all" was the theme of the 2015 Tulalip Police Department Awards Banquet, held Wednesday, February 11, at the Tulalip Resort Casino. The banquet was held in recognition for officers and staff who have demonstrated exceptional professionalism and leadership within their positions as Tulalip Police officers or Tulalip Police staff members.

This year three officers, one staff member and a community member were highlighted for their outstanding work in the department and with the Tulalip community. While all officers and staff put 100 percent into serving the Tulalip community, Tulalip Chief of Police Carlos Echevarria said, "these officers' and staff members' work stood out."

"With such a large staff it's hard to choose just a select few. They all do such a great job throughout the year," said Chief Echevarria.

Fish and Wildlife officer Clayton Horne was named Fish and Wildlife Officer of the Year for his service with the police department, while Lorelei Ranney was named Employee of the Year for her outstanding work and dedication in assisting officers and other department staff. The Chief's Award was presented to Senior Officer Jeremy Mooring for his leadership, integrity, and willingness to go above and beyond the call of duty.

When presenting the award, Chief Echevarria had this to say about officer Mooring, "You have consistently performed your duties in an exemplary and professional manner." Echevarria commended officer Mooring's can-do attitude and praised his willingness to assist officers by taking on additional shifts when needed and helping to make safer road conditions for travelers in Tulalip.

The prestigious Officer of the Year award was presented to K-9 Officer Wolfy, whose watch ended on January 2, when she lost her battle with cancer. Wolfy's handler and partner, officer M.C. Engen, received the award in Wolfy's honor.

"Throughout their partnership, they have assisted in cases with the Tulalip PD Drug Task Force, FBI, DEA, and ATF agencies. We would like to commend you and your partner with the Officer of the Year award for the dedication and commitment you have provided to the department. Your devotion to the community, professionalism and commitment to duty reflected great credit upon yourself, the Tulalip Police Department and the Tulalip Tribes," said Echevarria to officer Engen.

The department recognized community member Nate Hatch for their Honoring Our Own award, an annual award that is presented to community members who exhibit a commitment to leadership, trust, respect and service above self within the community.

"Nate Hatch, you have shown strong character, a can-do positive attitude, brilliant smile, sense of humor and most importantly, you have been an inspiration to the entire world following the events that occurred on October 24, 2014. Your bravery is second to none and we applaud you," said Echevarria.

"Our year was cut short. As a tribal member, community member and chief of police it felt as though our year started on January 1 and ended on October

24. I literally cannot tell you what I did from October 24, until the end of the year; it is one large blur. As I look back, I can't think of a better group of individuals in this police department and as a team that showed great courage, leadership, professionalism and the willingness to go above and beyond for the community, as I did in this group, that I would want to serve with," said Chief Echevarria.

Wrapping up the banquet, all Tulalip officers and TPD staff members were presented a commemorative coin specially designed for them. Each coin symbolizes the dedication and commitment staff and officers have to keeping the Tulalip community safe.

“‘Franchise Day’ was celebrated on Tulalip reservation February 8 at 5:30 p. m. with an interesting program in recognition of the anniversary of the federal act that gave to Indians the general allotment of lands franchise...” “Franchise Day Is Celebrated At Tulalip.” Everett Daily Herald, 10 Feb. 1915:10.

“Dr. C. M. Buchanan, head of the Tulalip Indian agency, and his band of Indians quartered in the Olympia harbor on the launch Tulalip, will stay on the heels of the legislature until they get the right to hunt ducks all the year round or know the reason why. They presented their claims yesterday afternoon before the senate game committee. Here is the way Dr. Buchanan tells it: In 1855 Dr. Isaac I. Stevens, first governor of the Territory of Washington, made a treaty with the Tulalip at Mukilteo. The Indians said they did not care much about land, but they would be satisfied through all the generations to come if they could have the unrestricted right to hunt and fish for their food. ... Everything went along finely until Fish Commissioner L. H. Darwin got on the job. Then things were found in the laws that prevented the Indians from taking salmon with set-nets or killing ducks out of season. When these cases were taken into court by Dr. Buchanan, the Indians won. But Darwin kept right on having them arrested. And the Indians could not appeal to the supreme court, because they were the winners in the superior court. So now they are here to get a definite and final expression from the legislature. An amendment providing for set-net fishing in the rivers of the reservation has already been inserted in the food fish code.” “Tulalip People Want The Right To Hunt At All Times.” Everett Daily Herald, 24 Feb. 1915: 3.

“The debate Friday evening was a decisive victory for Marysville. The Granite Falls team (team), which had the negative (negative) side, did very well but the superior delivery of Myers, Steve and Tatham, the Marysville team, won for the locals...” “Marysville Wins the Debate.” Marysville Globe, 12 Feb. 1915: (3).

“Mrs. Arnold McKay attended a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce in Seattle on Wednesday of last week in connection with the National Youth Administration unemployment as a representative of the Tulalip NYA class. She also exhibited some of the Indian handicraft made by the NYA girls.” “Tulalip.” Marysville Globe, 1 Feb. 1940: (3).

“The regular board of directors’ meeting of the Tulalip Tribes met on February 6 at the Tulalip Indian Agency. Present at the meeting were three residents of Priest Point who were delegated to represent that district in regard to the presentation of a petition to the Tulalip Tribes for an extension of the present Jimmicum Springs water system to the Priest Point district. ... E. B. Sierer of Seattle met with the Board and presented a plan for a summer resort in that tract of land directly in front of the St. Anne’s Catholic church at Tulalip over to Battle Creek, known as ‘Cherry Point.’...The committee on Lands and Leases, comprised of George Jones as chairman, Sebastian Williams, and Hubert Coy met with Mr. Sierer on Saturday of last week and approved of his plan. Sunday evening, February 11, the entire board of directors met and the committee on Lands and Leases presented the formal proposition to the Board. The plan has been formally approved by the Tulalip Board of Directors...” “New Summer Site Meets Approval Of Tulalip Directors: Plans Call for Construction of Forty to Sixty Cabins by Seattle Man.” Marysville Globe, 15 Feb. 1940: (1).

“George Comenote, son of Mrs. George Wyakes of Tulalip has delighted the KRKO radio audiences, of Tulalip especially, by appearing on the Everett station and singing songs with his own guitar accompaniment. It is gratifying to us to know that we have talent in our midst, and special congratulations and thanks to George for remembering the Tulalip hospital in his dedication...” Marysville Globe, 15 Feb. 1940: (1).

“Norbert James of Marietta and daughter, Mrs. Florence Kinley of the U.S. Tacoma Hospital were visitors at Tulalip Saturday morning of last week. Mr. Wilfred Steve and Dr. J. H. Hendry of the U.S. Tacoma Hospital were at the Tulalip Agency on business last Saturday. Mrs. Ella

M. Stubbs, Mrs. Arnold J. McKay, and Miss Madeline K. Johnstone spent Tuesday afternoon in Seattle purchasing supplies for the N.Y.A. class at Tulalip...” “Tulalip.” Marysville Globe, 29 Feb. 1940: (6).

Marysville Globe, 1965

“Who has jurisdiction over Indian land? Tulalip Tribes in 1958, asked for, and received, civil and criminal jurisdiction of the State of Washington for their land, but contend Snohomish County cannot require a conditional use permit for their lands, as is required in the rest of the county. Tulalip Tribes, by request, is now joined with Seattle Disposal Co. as defendants in the trial filed by Snohomish County. Tulalip Tribes, on January 29, asked to be allowed to be made parties to the action, as defendants, to the complaint filed December 14, by Snohomish County against the Seattle Disposal Co. They admitted entering into an agreement with Seattle Disposal Co. and denied that Snohomish County has jurisdiction over their property... To establish a garbage dump, Snohomish County zoning ordinance requires a conditional use permit be applied for and granted by the Board of Adjustments. Tulalip Tribes contend that any court decision saying they must have a conditional use permit from the county, limits the use of their property.” “At the courthouse—Tulalip Tribes ask to be named...part of garbage suit.” Marysville Globe, 24 Feb. 1965: 2.

“Filing for candidates for the annual election of the Tulalip Tribes Inc., closes at 4 p.m. Feb. 10, according to Wayne Williams, Tribal Manager. ...The terms of George Williams, Lawrence Williams and Martin Williams expire. Two councilmen will be elected for three-year terms and one for a one-year term. Holdover councilmen include Charles Sheldon, Maria Moses, Bernard Gobin and Herman Williams. Sheldon is the present chairman, Gobin is vice chairman, Martin Williams secretary and Lawrence Williams, treasurer. “Tulalip Tribe To Elect New “Indian students will be excused soon to EJC, Edison Tech., and other choice institutes of higher learning to see the opportunities open in furthering education and the advantages of doing so. “A Snohomish County Superior Court hearing on the proposal to establish a sanitary landfill on land owned by the Tulalip Indian Tribe was postponed Friday until March 17. The postponement came after Seattle Disposal Co., the firm with which the tribe has signed an agreement, failed to appear in court. The hearing will be over whether the tribe and the Seattle firm must obtain a conditional use permit from the county planning commission before proceeding with the sanitary landfill project” “Tulalip Garbage Fill Hearing Is Postponed.” Everett Herald, 27 Feb. 1965: 17A.

“On January 30, 1990, Arlen James, who is the instructor for Project Salmon, conducted a Homework Workshop for 22 parents of Indian Children, in the Tulalip tribal Center’s People’s Room. The program was a cooperative effort between the Seattle School District, Indian Education ‘Hutchoosedah’ program, and the Marysville School District, Indian Values program. . . . On January 16, the Tulalip ALC attended the Changing Spirit Indian Arts Exhibition at the Seattle Art Center. The students were able to view exhibits of native American Indian artists, and student art from around the Puget Sound region.” James, Arlen. “Report to Indian Education.” See-Yaht-Sub Newsletter, Feb. 1990: (4-5).

“I read in the tribal See-Yaht-Sub... on the need to comply with the burn ban. I would have to agree on the part about it being a health hazard. But I was troubled with what I as an Indian have to give up for the continuous growth of this area and also the acceptance of being called a citizen on what I call THEIR terms. ...what would happen to the longhouse if we couldn’t have real fires in there. Can you see a light bulb in place of the three fires. How about your smoke houses. The traditional smoke houses that some of our people have been smoking salmon and other sea products. You may have to buy this from Japan or elsewhere. The sweat house would be a problem also, as how you would heat up the rocks to develop steam. You probably would have to heat the rocks up in your oven. The curing of shellfish the old Indian way would be out. There are other Indian cultural things that would be eliminated from this if the trend continues. We are losing a lot of culture and history because of continuous growth in this area and there seems to be no way to control it. Somehow it feels very awkward to watch what is happening and can do nothing but have tears in my eyes. We do not give up but the battle is a difficult one. They cannot take our pride being a Tulalip Indian. We must all help protect our culture, history, and not let them turn us into non-Indians.” Sheldon, Francis. “Burn Ban – Indian Perspective.” See-Yaht-Sub Newsletter, Feb. 1990: (5).

“Despite 16 years of progress since the historic Boldt decision, remnants of ill-will and misinformation continue to emerge concerning treaty Indian fishing rights and the related management efforts put forth by Pacific Northwest tribes. Whenever a particular run of fish is lower than expected, there exists an element of society which seeks to quickly place the responsibility for declining salmon and steelhead runs on tribal fishermen. . . . An examination of the facts and realities associated with tribal resource management would quickly dissipate such misinformation. In the 16 years since Judge George Boldt issued his landmark decision concerning Indian treaty rights, a cavalcade of positive efforts aimed at enhancing and protecting this most precious resource has been put forth by tribal resource managers. Working with their counterparts from state, federal, environmental, business and industry groups, tribal fisheries managers have developed aggressive, comprehensive resource management programs designed to ensure the survival of these God-given gifts for future generations of Indians and non-Indians alike. . . . A prime example of environmental enhancement efforts between the tribes and local government is currently under way concerning reclamation of estuary wetlands on the Snohomish River delta. . . . Working with Snohomish County, the Tulalip Tribes are seeking ways to reclaim lost wetlands. Rebuilding this estuary will play a key role in rebuilding salmon and steelhead runs up the river. . . .” Williams, Terry. “Boldt legacy should be one of cooperation.” The Herald (Everett), 8, Feb. 1990: 13A.

“The Marysville-Pilchuck LadyHawks’ regular basketball season came to an end last Wednesday evening when they lost to Snohomish 56-36. Earlier in the week, the LadyHawks dropped a one-point decision 56-55 to Everett. Nancy Williams led the LadyHawks in both games, scoring 16 points against Snohomish and 18 points against Everett. . . .” Also joining the scoring parade for the LadyHawks were Tabatha Theders with 5 points, Zoe Krumm 4; Rachel Schepel 4; Katie Goetz and Charlotte Jones, 2 each and Julann Spromberg, Shelly Weigelt, and Rondi Nelson, 1 each. . . . In an earlier game against Everett, the LadyHawks played the girls from Everett tough, losing 56-55. Keeping the LadyHawks close was the scoring not only of Nancy Williams with 18, but the 14 points of junior Charlotte Jones. . . .” “LadyHawks close out season.” Marysville Globe, 21 Feb. 1990: 12.

Nicholas Raymond Konkler

Nicholas Raymond Konkler, 17, of Auburn, Washington, passed away after a nearly lifelong battle with cancer, Monday, February 23, 2015, at Mary Bridge Children's Hospital, Tacoma, Washington.

He is survived by his parents,

Vince and Christina Konkler, older brother, Zac Smith. Grandmother, Linda Smith, Aunts, Uncles and numerous cousins. Preceded in death by his Great-Grandmother Lillian Williams, Great-Great Grandparents Carl & Cecelia Jones.

In his short time with us Nick had the amazing ability to connect with people from all walks of life. This was apparent by the large group of friends and family gathered by his bedside during his last days with us.

During Nick's senior year at Auburn Riverside High School he was voted Homecoming King 2014, during his Junior year he was voted "Best Fighter" at the Verizon "No Texting and Driving" Assembly with Golden Tate.

Nick was definitely a car enthusiast, with a love of Classic American Cars. He enjoyed cruising and car shows. During his Junior year he spent the winter building a Chevy 383 stroker engine for his 1988 Blazer, in preparation for the High School Drags. His car put up a respectable time of 12.85 seconds in the quarter mile at 109 mph.

The Mayor of Auburn, has proclaimed March 7, 2015, as "Nicholas R. Konkler Day of Remembrance." ...Whereas, a life cut short by cancer causes us much sadness, we can take a small amount of comfort to know that Nick's motto of "Keep on Truckin" can live through us and we can carry his example of giving and caring about those around us even when things may not be going as we would like;

We were not quite ready to say goodbye, but we are happy to know that you are no longer suffering. Thank you for everything that you taught us about life, and how to live it. Thank you for being so amazingly caring and giving to everyone around you.

May your burnouts in heaven be plentiful, smokey, and loud.

In lieu of flowers the family has asked that donations be made in

Nick's honor to any of the following Charities:

Pediatric Brain Tumor Foundation, <http://pbtfc.convio.net/goto/nicksflightcrew>, or send checks made out to Puget Sound Ride for Kids with a note saying it's a donation in memory of Nick Konkler, 302 Ridgefield Court, Ashville, NC 28806

"See Ya Later" Foundation, <http://www.seeyalater.org/syl-washington/donation-form-to-wa/>, PO Box 1281, McMinnville, OR 97128

Mary Bridge Children's Foundation, waystohelp.multicare.org, PO Box 5296, Tacoma, WA 98405

A celebration of life service was held at 6:00 p.m., Saturday, March 7, 2015, at Auburn Riverside High School, 501 Oravetz Road, Auburn, Washington 98092.

Donald Charles Hatch III

Donald Charles Hatch III was born on October 11, 1960 to Donald Hatch II and Barbara Anderson Hatch. Donald was surrounded by his family when he went to be with the Lord and his mother on March 6, 2015.

He was a graduate of MPHS in 1978. Donald's passion all of his life was revolved around sports. Playing football, basketball, baseball and golf all of his life. Any tournament Donald attended he would always be recognized for ALL-STAR or MVP. He was known as a walking sports Almanac. A special shout out to the "Original" Renegade Team. Donald is a third generation coach for Tulalip.

Donald's career started out at Boeing. Then he became a bingo caller at the Tulalip Tribes entertainment center. Then he moved on to the Tulalip Casino as a blackjack dealer, eventually becoming pit boss. But of course his passion for sports moved him on with his career to Athletic Director at the Tulalip Boys & Girls Club. In his life he was known as a mathematic wizard.

He leaves behind his father, Donald (Penoke) Hatch Jr. and Cy (Karen) Fryberg (second parents); daughters, Jacqueline and Haley Hatch, Michelle Hutchins; his only son, Deion (Rocio)

Hatch. Besides his children the joys of his life were his grandchildren Nate, Alesha, Amare, Peyton, Francis, Deion Jr, and Honey girl. He also leaves his siblings, Denise Hatch-Anderson, Andrea (Steve) Hamilton, Paula Hatch, Carrie Fryberg, Jennie Fryberg and Kristi Jo Parks. Brothers Lawrence Hatch, George and Bubba Fryberg; numerous aunts uncles nieces and nephews.

Preceded him in death, his mother, Barbra (Anderson) Hatch; and his soulmate, Shirley Lyn Jones; as well as many more of his ancestors from Muckleshoot and Tulalip.

Interfaith Service was held Wednesday, March 11, 2015 at 6:00 p.m. at Tulalip Tribal Gym. Funeral services were held Thursday at 10:00 a.m. at the Tulalip Tribal Gym with burial following at Mission Beach Cemetery.

Arrangements entrusted to Schaefer-Shipman Funeral Home, Marysville.

Who's Winning?

For all the banner waving and heroic talk of youth saving at its inception, are we really any better off since declaring war on drugs?

The ten thousand dollar reward money has succeeded only in providing material support to the Tulalip drug industry. If we can afford an open ended budget to spoon feed junky informants then why the caps on the per capitas?

Is the exclusion ordinance comprehensive, just and fair to tribal members? At any point in the banishment process has an attempt been made to offer health or mental health screenings? If so, is special consideration given. Is there no quarter given, no mercy shown? Why can't the exclusion ordinance be amended to include sex offenders? In our silence and inactivity, aren't we complicit in harboring and concealing these dangerous predators?

After fifteen years aren't we overdue for a status report including, but not limited to, casualties, collateral damage, total dollars spent and mission objectives completed?

I am asking for your vote

My name is Margie J. Guzman – Santibanez. I have been married to Oscar Santibanez for 31 years. Together we have 4 beautiful children (Shaena, Cruz, Cesar and Shanae Santibanez) and 2 Grandchildren and 2 Foster Grandchildren. I have lived in our community for 46 years. I live a clean and sober life.

My parents are Pete and Sherry Guzman and my Grandmother was Virginia Brumbaugh.

I graduated from Marysville Pilchuck High School and from Columbia College with my MBA in 2000.

Issues I would like to see addressed in the next three years if elected to serve you:

1. Respect – Healing - Spirituality – Cultural – Family; we are missing these values in the workplace that affect the moral.
2. Employment: Why are our people not getting jobs – what are the road blocks.
3. Commissions: We need to give proper authority to the Commissions to perform the task they were elected to do. The Board of Directors need to rely on the knowledge of the Commissioners instead of trying to do everything themselves. We need a Hunting Commission – the Fish Commission has many issues to fight and not enough time to tackle hunting issues. TERO Commission needs to be defined to fit the needs of the Employees. There needs to be a place employees can go to be heard without fear of retaliation and for a fair investigation – that is TERO and it should be for every Tribal Entity. Grievances can be heard and remedies from

- the Commission, which would keep the Board out of HR issues until the very end (Tribal Members always have the right to go to the Board)
4. Prevention! This has to be done at an early age. We, as a community need to provide programs for our youth to keep them grounded. We need to teach them the values. I would love to set up dates with our Elders and Youth and open up the communication so we don't lose our past. Our Elders can learn about the new technology from our youth and with this they garner respect for each other.
5. Beda?Chelh: Our children need to stay in OUR community and learn our culture. We need to provide homes here on Tulalip.

I believe the Tribe is failing in respect to our people. Communication and Moral is at an all-time low. We are failing in Leadership – some we call leaders are allowed to Bully, create Lateral Violence, Harass and Intimidate and then they sit back and wonder why workers are unhappy. There is no follow through when the Board of Directors says “THEY WILL LOOK INTO IT” we need Board Members that want to reach out to the membership and communicate. WE NEED TO QUIT FINDING REASONS WHY THINGS CAN'T BE DONE AND FIND WAYS TO GET THINGS DONE!

I am running for the Board because I feel that I can make a difference. My education and experience in various positions will help me help this Tribe in making decisions. My expertise is in Human Resources and Employment; I truly understand what Human Resources means.

I am a doer – I want issues resolved and not have it lingering for months. I will communicate with the membership so they know issues first hand and not have to hear things from other resources. I will keep myself educated and knowledgeable of our hunting and treaty rights.

You have seen me be your advocate on the General Council Floor; I will be your advocate on the Board. It has been said that the Board of Directors need to walk their talk – I WALK MY TALK!

I am asking for your vote on Saturday, March 21, 2015 at the Tulalip Hotel between 7:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. to be your next Board of Director.

Brent Cleveland, running for Tulalip Board of Directors

I, Brent Cleveland, am running for Tulalip Board of Directors because I believe the people of our community merit a “Healer on our Council.” If you are looking for someone who has a proven track record of working across ideological lines to get the results necessary to move Tulalip Forward, I am that somebody who consistently listens to people openly, maximizing their ideas, grouping and pairing them with the right concepts to ensure overall success for Tulalip. The time is now to overcome that fear of failure and appoint an individual of results-driven action over statements.

We are experiencing an unsettling trend where more and more of Our Community is losing not only Trust but also Faith in their government. The ongoing list includes housing, enrollment, economic development, community activities, educational shortfalls, medical and health, unemployment, turnover, mismanagement, focus upon short-term profits versus mid- & long-term, and many more.

My campaign trail will be centered on gaining credibility, trust, and will provide real faith that our government can operate under conditions of duress, and we will still prevail as Tulalip People. This can be done by reforming government policies and codes, diversifying revenue streams, leveraging our resources to build a sustainable activity center, and strengthening economic resources available to provide safety ladders for people who may need a helping hand getting back on their feet and a step ahead in life.

With your support I shall be one of the Healers that our government needs to work with the people to bring our community closer to our government and assure we all are contributing to make a Tulalip Forward movement happen.

Brent Cleveland, to bring back the sense of security in our government, with your vote, so together we can be that difference in our community and allow history to write itself.

Willa McLean, running for Tulalip Board of Directors

Hello Tulalip:

Apparently I missed the date to submit my candidate’s statement and now I have to do it through letter form to you all. I am hoping to gain your vote for a position as a Tulalip Board of Director on March 21st, 2015 when voting takes place at Tulalip Resort Casino.

My name is Willa McLean, my father’s name was William Charles McLean Sr. and my mom’s name was Miriam (Mireau) McLean, I have a twin brother William “Bully” McLean Jr. I have 5 children – Matilda Comenote age 18, Katrina Comenote age 17, George Comenote age 15, Cobey Comenote age 13, and Takoda Anderson, age 6.

My desire to be a candidate has been on my mind for some time, so this year I put my name on the ballot. My heart has and will always be with our people, I know first-hand how so many of our people are challenged.

First and foremost we must protect our sovereignty, our fishing and hunting rights. Protecting our precious elders and the innocence of our children, foster care options for our children, prevention for our youth by educating them early, drug and alcohol treatment, Health Care – health care advocates whose sole responsibility is to help our people sign up for health care, to find solutions to balance our tribe on improving service tribal wide, Employment – steady part-time work for students, homemakers and seniors who may want to supplement their income, more training options for our people other than entry level, fair contracting processes for tribal member owned businesses, more housing options for different sized families from singles to larger families, tutoring programs for our children, and improved communication.

This may seem like an ambitious list, but I am a firm believer if you dedicate yourself and devote time to the cause anything is possible. As a candidate I can firmly attest that my attendance would be excellent, that I would seek guidance and wisdom from our elders, seek out youth for their vision, and anywhere in between – everyone has a voice, it is how we express it and what we can do with it.

I have worked in many capacities in the tribe (for various reasons – temporary basis, or a better job came along) Casino experience: Soft Count team member, Revenue Auditor –for slots and bingo, Table Games Dealer, Slot Attendant, Employment Administrative Assistant, Employment Specialist, Human Resources for the ARM Program, Food and Beverage Administrative Assistant. Tribal Government: Homeless Shelter, Child Support Intake Clerk, Fish Hatchery – Laborer,

Hibulb Cultural Center – Receptionist, Behavioral Health Executive Assistant, Finance Receptionist, and most currently General Manager’s Office- Executive Assistant. Commissions/Committees: Past TERO Commissioner serving as Vice-Chair. Community work: Chaperoned youth to UNITY Conference in Los Angeles 2013, Chaperoned youth to Northwest Indian Youth Conference, Volunteer going on 3rd year for Tulalip Boy’s & Girls Club Auction, Volunteer training at Healing Lodge for Equine Therapy, Fundraising events, panel member for an Employment Case at Tulalip Tribal Court, Prep cook for Speebidah x 2 years, Prep cook for Canoe Journey 2013, helped put together the play center at the Tulalip Boy’s and Girls club x 1 day, Tulalip Halloween Event, assisted people with court paperwork, helped people sign up for unemployment. Outside jobs: Target, Commercial Fishing, PCL Construction – Admin Assistant, Insulation Contractors – Insulated the Tulalip Resort Hotel from 3rd floor to the 12th – all the sound walls, corridors and fireproofing, Ebenisterie Beaubois – Laborer for the finish carpenters for Tulalip Resort Hotel. Training: Employment Law for Managers, Robert’s Rules of Order, and many more. Skills: Typing 75 wpm, Filing, Outlook, PowerPoint, Excel, Access, office efficiency, detail oriented, excellent customer service, excellent organizational skills, business correspondence, ability to multi-task, excellent problem solver. Highlights: Employee of the month November 2014, Together We’re Better – Community Award – February 2015, several fundraising activities to get my daughter to travel to England, Ireland, Wales and Scotland 2014, and to Johns Hopkins Medical Center 2013. Took a 32 hour course on Fear of Flying course (to push back on my fears) I have also battled with many life changing events – drug addiction, domestic violence, system stressors, depression, homelessness, joblessness, abandonment from my parents passing away, and losing my sister in a tragic car accident.

I am also working on the developing stages for my charity rightfully named – “Angel Network of Tulalip”, that will assist many of our tribal members with human service’s needs – examples: a mom who needs formula or diapers, a cancer patient who might need supplies, a mom or dad who may need car repairs, a dialysis patient who may need rides, a person who might need a down payment to get their license back, etc. – the list can go on and on. This charity was an idea compiled from the needs of our community so I am working hard on getting this up and running in the next 6 to 9 months.

This vast job experience and life issues has given me a lot of knowledge and skills to help solve problems quickly. I feel my skillset in the office and working for the tribe in many capacities has given me the ability to help others, but also to envision how we can improve areas in our tribe that deserve our attention.

Please vote with a conscience, and vote for us that you feel will fulfill the obligations for the benefit of the entire tribe and in the years to come. Thank you for reading, if you have more questions, you can call me any time @ (425) 905-0632. I appreciate your time and attention in reviewing this statement. Peace and blessings to all and good luck to all the candidates.

Respectfully,
Willa Cheryl McLean

Sentiments from 1967: General Council continues to have the final say

Submitted by Val Williams

The following is a letter from Wayne W. Williams, former Tulalip Business Manager in the 1960s, to the entire Tribal Membership. This letter was sent out a few weeks prior to 1967's General Council as a reminder to all Tulalips, encouraging them to let their voice be heard by attending and voting in the upcoming General Council. William's goes on to state that "the General Council will continue to have the final say on all of the Board's actions. This is as it should be."

Much like present today, the Tribal Membership in 1967 felt that the Board had so much authority and power that there wasn't much reason to attend General Council. That just isn't true. The people still hold the ultimate authority, but for each person who voluntarily doesn't attend or chooses not to vote the people's authority becomes weakened. Be the difference you want to see on our reservation by attending General Council on Saturday, March 21...by speaking out and letting your opinion be heard...and most importantly by casting your vote.

March 16, 1967

Dear Tribal Members,

By now you probably have received a pamphlet that has information about proposed amendments to the Tribes' Constitution and Charter. Because of Bureau regulations only a brief explanation was permissible with the pamphlet, no electioneering or urging the members as to how to vote. This letter will try and explain, without going into word by word analyzing of the amendments, what they are intended to accomplish and, therefore, why they are necessary.

Our Constitution and Charter were formed over 30 years ago and generally speaking our founding fathers did a fine job of drafting both documents. However, certain parts have been found to be unable to give the tribe authority to conduct its affairs as they now are capable. Stated another way certain sections of the Constitution and Charter are restrictive in financial matters, such as contracts, borrowing money, and acquiring and disposing of lands. The Tribe is hampered by the limitation imposed. An example of this was when the Tribe was prevented from acquiring a garbage dump for its members because a land swap could not be authorized. Certain of these amendments will remove the necessity of securing the approval of the Secretary of the Interior. Once before, in March of 1954, the members voted to remove the Secretaries' powers in 3 parts of the Charter.

Lest anyone have fears of the Tribe, acting thru its Board of Directors, may be receiving too much power and authority, they are reminded that the General Council will continue to have the final say on all of the Board's actions. This is as it should be.

The Tribes economic growth during the past 30 years has been steady and by approving the proposed amendments the Tribe will be better able to meet the challenges that lie ahead. Your Board of Directors have all indicated their support for the amendments that you will vote on. We urge you to give your approval to each of these amendments. The Tribe will not be harmed by their adoption but to the contrary may be harmed or at least hampered if they are not approved.

If you have any questions you are encouraged to contact the members of the Board, or myself and we will do our best to answer them. If we can't answer your questions to your satisfaction then we have no right to ask for your support.

The polls for the election of the Board of Directors will close at 1 P.M. but the polls for the election of the Board of Directors will be open until 7 P.M., so that you may wait until the General Council Meeting, which will start after 1 P.M. and ask your questions at that time. There will be ample time to vote after the meeting.

Sincerely yours,
THE TULALIP TRIBES
Wayne W. Williams

How has the education you received at Northwest Indian College benefited your life?

"NWIC has given me the tools and empowered me to make a change in a lot of situations and I have learned about my culture as well. I always tell people that here you have to learn two things: you learn biology and then you learn how our elders approached biology traditionally. I just love it here."

Teesha Osias

"It has made me more in touch with my culture, making drums, flutes, women's sovereignty, beading and knitting. I graduated and have my associates in art."
