

Cultural Gatherings brings Lushootseed language to ELA families

Article and photos by Kalvin Valdillez

At the beginning of the 2017-18 school year, the Betty J. Taylor Early Learning Academy, the Lushootseed Language Department and the Rediscovery Program teamed up to bring Family Cultural Gatherings to the young students of the Academy and their families. The gatherings are held at the Academy every Tuesday and alternate between a one-hour class at 12:00 p.m. and a two-hour class at 5:00 p.m. weekly. Families can learn traditional Tulalip Lushootseed Language by means of storytelling, song and interactive lessons.

Ray Sheldon Jr. for Marysville School Board

If you haven't heard, Tulalip Tribal member Ray Sheldon Jr. is running for Marysville School Board District 1. As a citizen and a parent, I strongly support Ray and encourage our people to vote for him this November. Ray has a heart for children and he can speak to the unique perspective of both tribal students and those with special needs.

Almost 700 of the district's students are Native American and about 1,750 are children with special needs. That's almost a quarter of the students attending Marysville Schools! Both populations have a long history of being underserved and left behind in the public school system. These students need a strong advocate who will make sure their voices are heard.

Ray truly cares about children, and over the last 30+ years has been a volunteer coach for little league baseball. He also volunteers his time to a variety of non-profits, including Leah's Dream Foundation, which assists local students with autism

I hope you will help us elect a man who will speak for students who need a voice in our district, vote for Ray Sheldon, Jr. on November 7th.

Respectfully, Misty Napeahi General Manager

Lushootseed Language Teacher, Natasha Gobin encourages familie to attend the gatherings.

"We really want to build that connection between our language and culture back to the families so that they can really have a feeling of what the kids are learning in school," explains Betty J. Taylor Early Learning Academy Director, Sheryl Fryberg. "We want to share that value; I think that the Lushootseed Department does a really great job of sharing that value. We want our families to have an opportunity to learn Lushootseed too, with our kids."

The revitalized

traditional Coast Salish language is currently offered at all levels by the Lushootseed Language Department. The language is being spoken to and utilized by students at the Early Learning Academy, Quil Ceda Tulalip Elementary and Tulalip Heritage High School. The Language Department also offers Lushootseed 101, a college course through Northwest Indian College, to the employees of the Tulalip Tribes. This past summer, the Annual Lushootseed Language Camp was a huge success as over one hundred and sixty youth participated in the weeklong language camp.

The Academy wanted to bring this experience to the parents and siblings of their students, and the Cultural Gatherings presents the perfect opportunity for students to practice the language outside of the classroom. During the Cultural Gatherings, parents and students learn words, phrases and songs alongside one another. A meal is prepared by the Academy for the participants and each gathering begins with a joint prayer, in Lushootseed, to bless the food. The Language Department creates a fun learning experience for the families with book readings, flash cards, and songs as well as arts and crafts. Many students are familiar with the words and often assist their parents with pronunciation.

"It's encouraged for each family to attend at least one of the classes we offer," states Lushootseed Language Teacher, Natasha Gobin. "We're trying to teach the families what the kids are learning in school because we know that when the kids go home, they're trying to get their parents to learn [the language] with them. If they point out any of the animals and are saying the words in Lushootseed to their parents, quite often the parents are like 'I have no idea what you're saying', so we're trying encourage the families to engage in that learning and make it relevant in the home which in turn empowers the kids when they start using the language."

The next gathering will be held on Tuesday, October 25 at 12:00 p.m. for more information please contact the Betty J. Taylor Early Learning Academy at (360) 716-4250.

Research shows that children are more likely to succeed academically and are less likely to engage in disruptive behavior if their families are involved in their education. Additional studies have found that parental involvement is more important to student success, at every grade level, than family income or education. However, many parents say that they feel unwelcome or uncomfortable in their children's schools.

To bridge this gap, Quil Ceda Tulalip Elementary (QCT) has brought back 'Coffee Morning', an activity to promote parental involvement and gets families more familiar with school staff. The first Coffee Morning of the school year took place on October 11.

"I feel the significance of a monthly Coffee Morning is to provide access to the school, myself, and our staff in an informal setting," said Principal Doug Shook. "Just as we want Quil Ceda Tulalip Elementary to feel welcoming to all of our students every day, we want families to feel welcome when they come in the building. It is important for families to have an opportunity to meet me and talk to me about their child's experience here at QCT. This way we can stay responsive to the needs of the family and community."

Parents, grandparents, and guardians alike were invited to join their students in the school library where coffee, juice, and a variety of donuts could be enjoyed. Over 80 participants showed up and mingled during the 8:45a.m. – 9:15a.m. window. Several parents could be found joining their student in reading a good book, while others took the opportunity to introduce themselves to the new Principal and his staff.

"As the new principal at QCT, I'm excited that we had 80 family members and students participate!" added Principal Doug. "We're hoping that word of mouth gets out so we have even more family members at our next Coffee Morning. I had the opportunity to talk with many families and to introduce myself and answer all of their questions. My hope is that we can provide additional ways for our QCT families to visit and show off the great work of our students. Our staff does a great job and works hard in making QCT a warm and inviting space so that our students can do their best every day."

October marks the second annual Unity and Wellness Month sponsored by the Tulalip Tribes and in partnership with the Marysville School District as they focus on a different area of student wellness each week in October. Week 2 was healthy relationships week. Morning Coffee showcased the goals of healthy relationships with students, parents, and teachers coming together in unity.

If you missed out this time (or even if you didn't) QCT staff would love to see more of their students and families at the next month's Coffee Morning on November 1 from 8:45a.m. -9:15a.m.

Bump, Set, Spike... it's Senior Night

Article and photos by Micheal Rios

The Francy J. Sheldon gymnasium was packed full of family and friends as the Tulalip Heritage Lady Hawks (5-6) hosted the Orcas Christian Saints (5-3) on Tuesday, October 17. This game doubled as Senior Night, so the evening's contest meant a little something extra for the eight seniors on the team.

Prior to the volleyball match, there was a ceremony to honor the Lady Hawks seniors. Kimberly Smoley, Jessica Damita, Nissie Jones, Rosealynne Williams, Keryn Parks, Shaunte Moses, Eddie Reeves, and Deandra Grant were all given a bouquet of roses from Principal Shelly Lacy before greeting their families on the court for a photograph opportunity.

In the match's 1st game, both teams were playing with lots of energy and communicating effectively. Heritage jumped out to an early 8-4 lead, but the Saints fought back and tied it up at 18-18. The Lady Hawks trailed for the first time at 20-22, but after a timeout they regrouped and earned victory in a hard fought 28-26 opening game.

The 2nd game started out competitive, tied 7-7, before the Lady Hawks found their groove and took a 17-10 lead. Heritage did a great job all match of setting up senior captains, Keryn and Deandra, for point-earning spikes, and won the game 25-16.

The 3rd game ended up being the most lopsided as the Lady Hawks dominated at the net with several key blocks and spikes that took the fight out of the Saints. Seniors on the team got plenty of reps down the stretch and celebrated with a 25-9 win, taking the match W 3 games to 0.

With the win the Lady Hawks record moved to (6-6) and assures them a spot in the upcoming District Tournament that starts on Wednesday, October 25. Time and location to be determined after Heritage wraps up their final two regular season games.

Education –

Marysville School District selects former Tulalip Tribes Board Member and Native American advocate to serve as Director of Equity, Diversity and Indian Education

Other positions also filled include Deputy Superintendent, Assistant Director of Human Resources, and Early Childhood Education and Assistance Program Interim Manager

Source: Emile Wicks, Marysville School District

Marysville, WA – The Marysville School District has selected Deborah Parker to serve as the District's Director of Equity, Diversity and Indian Education. Parker comes to the Marysville School District after serving as a member and Vice Chair of the Tulalip Tribes' Board of Directors. In addition, Parker has run her own company which provided consultation to tribal nations, local, state, national and foreign government agencies and colleges and universities in developing effective communication, strategic management and policy. Her work has taken her around the world to places such as the University of Guadalajara, the Peruvian jungles of South America, and countries across Asia. During her time as Director of the Residential School Healing for the Aboriginal Healing Foundation in British Columbia, the program received honors from the Canadian Parliament.

A Marysville School District graduate, Parker holds a bachelor's degree in American Ethnic Studies and Sociology with a focus on racial disparities from the University of Washington. She has extensive knowledge of the K-12 educational system and its policies, as well as experience improving equity and diversity in large, complex organizations.

"We are honored to welcome Ms. Parker to our staff," said Marysville Superintendent Dr. Becky Berg. "Her wealth of knowledge, experience, and passion for equity and social justice will help us better serve and build success for our students and the Marysville-Tulalip community."

Parker's many efforts and accomplishments include working to pass the Ethic Studies Requirement (ESR), advocating for the Violence Against Women Act (WAWA), mentoring minority students in math and science, as well as serving as the Education Committee Co-Chair for the Affiliated Tribes of the Northwest Indians (ATNI) and on the Board of Directors for the Smithsonian Institute Board of Trustees.

In addition to a selecting a new Director of Equity, Diversity and Indian Education, the Marysville School District has selected Tracy Souza to serve as the new Assistant Director of Human Resources. Souza replaces Jason Thompson who was recently appointed Deputy Superintendent. Thompson will work closely with Superintendent Berg on educational finance, learning and teaching, and student achievement goals.

Souza has worked in the Marysville School District since September 2000. For the past 15 years, she has served as program manager for the Early Childhood Education and Assistance Program (ECEAP). Under her leadership, the program received a rating of five on the Early Achievers' Quality Rating Improvement scale. This is highest rating available, and Marysville's is the only ECEAP program in the region to receive it.

JoAnn Moffitt has been appointed to replace Souza as the Early Childhood Education and Assistance Program (ECEAP) Interim Manager at the Early Learning Center. Moffit brings much knowledge and experience to this position. Her work in the Marysville School District goes back to 1999 when she served as a family service provider for the early childhood education and program manager for ECEAP, then as a school counselor and intervention specialist for several years. Most recently, she served as a counselor at Shoultes Elementary School.

"The Marysville School District continues to move quality, effective staff members into positions that build further success for our students and capitalize on our individual and team strengths," said Marysville School Board President, Pete Lundberg. We are pleased with the direction our district is moving, look forward to the programs these individuals will take to the next level, and the positive impact their efforts will have on student achievement.

Letters October 25, 2017 dx"lilap syəcəb

I am very disturbed about the letter from the Tribal Chairwoman regarding the "housing problem" that listed several problem items

The ending of the letter stated "someone, without authority" disclosed a report the Board had several different departments working on regarding housing as they considered the report as confidential and someone without authority obtained a copy and improperly distributed to the community.

It goes on to apologize to the people that did not make house payments and in my opinion it is the tribal members who should be receiving an apology as we are the ones that would never have known about this if that someone didn't let us know what was going on.

Apparently the report was only for the Board of Directors as it involved the loss of several thousands of dollars and the tribal members were not supposed to know about it.

I believe all tribal members need an in depth report on this issue as it is our money too, not only the Boards.

The questions I have are listed.

When did this "housing problem" start and when did it end (years or months) I have heard this went on for several years where the new houses built around our bay were sold to tribal members who did not make any house payments

Why didn't our financial report show this discrepancy and show the dollar amount that is a loss if this went on for so long?

How many houses were involved? When the houses were sold a Contract listing the cost, payments, interest on the loan and when payments were due and the amount of payment. The Contract had to be signed by the seller and buyer so the buyer was obligated to abide by the contract so they knew when and amount of the payments they were required to make. They should have followed up and found out where they had to pay and abide by the contract.

On the outside world if a house was purchased a contract had to be signed and agreed with by the the buyer and seller and if the buyer didn't make payments the house would be reprocessed.

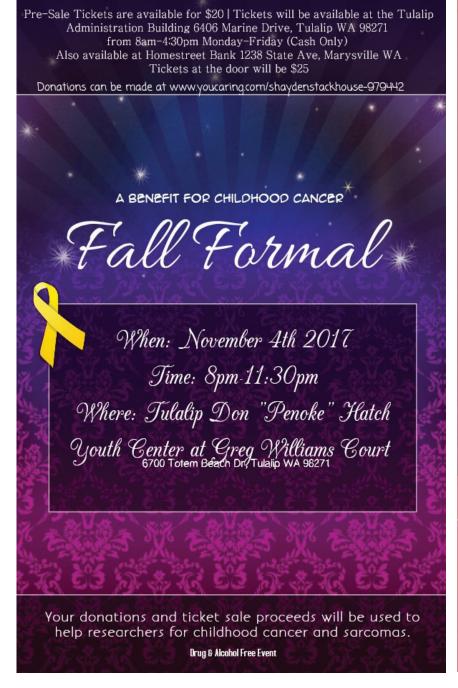

Under the Indian Civil Rights Act. All tribal members must be treated equally. In other words all tribal members should receive the same amount as tribal members who didn't make payments and should receive this same monetary value these people received. I know this will never happen but the Board should not have agreed to allow this to happen by letting them off the hook. Did this also let them have free land rental as well as their house payments?

Why didn't the Board notify tribal members immediately about this issue when they received the so called "confidential report" as apparently the information was only for them as well as the people who didn't make their house payments? I am wondering what other "confidential" information regarding our finances and tribal businesses the Board are keeping from members.

The letter also stated the Board set up a new Committee what is this (TLOC) Committee the Board has hired and, what do they and who are they? Is this just another way to keep us uninformed?
