Contract Health Service is on priority one funding

Clinic staff explain that priority one funding only affects referrals, not clinic services

By Niki Cleary

Recent policy changes, shifting Contract Health Services (CHS) funding from priority 3 to priority 1, have tribal citizens asking Tulalip leaders, 'Isn't healthcare my right under the treaty? Do you even care if I live or die?'

"First, I want to make clear that priority 1 refers to diseases," said Health Clinic Administrator Scott Powell. "A disease can be priority one, two, through five. Every person who comes to us for health care is important."

I am sick, can I still go to the clinic?

All eligible citizens are encouraged to come to the clinic for preventative care and if they are ill. Powell explained that priority 1 doesn't affect in-clinic services, only referrals to outside providers (which includes hospitals and specialty services not offered at Tulalip). Every citizen who is currently eligible to receive services at the Karen I. Fryberg Health Clinic still has access to the health and dental professionals who practice at the clinic.

The primary driver for the change is very simple, there is not enough money to pay for the increasingly high cost of health care outside the clinic and still provide the same level of services at the clinic.

Although many in the community are upset, Tulalip has actually funded CHS at priority 3 levels far longer than most tribes. Nationally, IHS services have been on priority 1 since March of 2009. Why was Tulalip spared? Tulalip funds health services through a combination of grant and hard dollars.

Tulalip is a self-governance tribe (see sidebar) with the ability to shift IHS grant funds to any program dedicated to the health care. During the 2013 budget shortfall, grant funds were re-allocated to the Family Services program to pay for the skyrocketing number of patients in chemical dependency treatment programs. This meant less for the tribe to spend on the clinic and CHS. Changing CHS from priority 3 to priority 1 funding was a way to prevent another budget shortfall this year. Both elders and students are exempt from the priority restrictions and will continue to have access to CHS at all priority levels.

Priority levels and payment for specialists/emergencies

The clinic is home to dentists, family practice and internal medicine doctors, even a pediatrician, podiatrist and diabetes specialist. While many services are offered on-site, some specialties are not available. When necessary, the clinic refers these cases out for care.

Why does CHS only cover certain healthcare needs? CHS is funded through IHS grants and, according to IHS regulations, is considered a payor of last resort. What is a payor of last resort? This means you must have exhausted all other available options, including private insurance, before CHS can even consider paying your medical bill.

Once you have exhausted your options, your medical situation is classified under one of the five priority levels. Priority 1 is defined as emergent care, meaning there is a threat to life, limb, and senses. Priority 2 is preventative care, and priority 3 is primary care, such as family practitioners. There is also priority 4 and 5 which cover tertiary care, such as hospice and in home care, and excluded services, meaning services not covered by other available options.

Depending on the current priority level, CHS will then be authorized to pay for the patient's services, or will have to deny the patient's claim. If you require emergency care while the clinic is closed, you must notify CHS within 72 hours of the visit to be considered eligible for payment.

For a complete list of CHS changes go to the Tulalip Tribes website and click on the Health Clinic page.

How long will we be on priority 1?

Powell and his team meet twice a month to look at available funds and projected needs to see if they can reopen CHS funding to pay for priority level 2 and 3 care. Already this year, they are $30,000 over CHS projections. Although funding is tight now, they hope the priority 1 restriction isn't long term.

Powell said that he and his team are more than happy to sit down and discuss any questions regarding changes to CHS with anyone who is interested. He also affirmed that he and his team of providers don't hesitate to send patients to outside specialists and hospitals when necessary.

IHS grant funding and PL 638

The total budget for IHS is $5 billion, which is portioned out to 10 regional areas. Each area office serves the tribes in its region. Tribes receive funding based on several factors including population and need. Tulalip is served by the Portland area office.

The CHS program at Tulalip is grant funded similar to IHS clinics across the nation, though as a PL 638 compacted tribe, also known as a self-governance tribe, Tulalip has some control over funding allocations. PL 638, or Public Law 93.638 which recognizes tribes as self-determined sovereigns, means they have authority to make contracts and compacts with the Federal Government and its agencies.

Under Tulalip's PL 638 compact, although the grant funds are guided by IHS regulations, the tribes can determine where the funds will be most used, or what the greatest need is, as long as the funds are used for community health programs. Here at Tulalip those programs include the Karen I. Fryberg Health Clinic, the Dental Clinic and Tulalip Family Services programs.

Last year, 2013, Tulalip anticipated a $9 million award from IHS. Due to sequestration, the final award was just under $8.5 million, leaving a $500,000 gap in budget, the equivalent to 10 full-time jobs. Another often overlooked piece of any grants budget is indirect costs. Indirect costs are administrative services provided by an organization (in this case, Tulalip Tribes), that support the grand funded program.

In the case of Tulalip's IHS grant, 29% of the total grant received pays for peripherals including finance services, utilities, electricity and maintenance of the facility. This means that out of a $9 million award, only $6 million is available to pay for health care, the rest must, according to IHS guidelines, pay for indirect costs.

Tribes that are not self-governance tribes are completely run by IHS. Rather than the tribe determining the need and deciding where to spend the overall budget, IHS determines need, creates a budget and completely administers the program with little input from the tribe.

Thank you for your incredible support of our local public schools

Dear Tulalip and Marysville Neighbors,

The winter weather is upon us, yet each day gets a little longer in anticipation of the renewal of spring.

In our fall newsletter, I was brand new to the area and spoke about our major work plan for the 2013-2014 school year. Now, although I am still rather new, I am finding my way around and meeting so many of you – and our work plan is well underway and mid-course. I hope the following will give you a bird's eye view of what the Marysville School District has been up to!

Our 2013-2014 work plan consisted of major focus in two areas:

the improvement of learning and teaching, and engaging for the future. In the area of student learning – we have been busy! With the advent of the Common Core State Standards, we are retooling our curriculum to meet these new higher standards. Not only are our standards new, but as of spring of 2015 – we will have new yearly student testing as well. We will be piloting this Smarter Balanced Assessment this spring.

We are also knee-deep in learning about our new teacher and principal evaluation system mandated by the legislature. We are finding it is extremely time-intensive, but that the conversations around student learning that are occurring as a result of this new system are indeed valuable. So, what we are teaching, how we are testing, and how educators are being evaluated are all 'under construction' and we are working hard to ensure that our students learn at the highest levels.

News

In addition to this core work, we are continuing to engage our community. This engagement ranges from coffee meetings in homes, to casual conversations at community and school events or in the grocery store. One formal initiative in this process of outreach was asking the voters to renew our educational programs maintenance and operations levy. This levy constitutes a full 20% of our district budget.

We also asked voters to approve our technology levy. Our last technology levy expired nearly ten years ago, and our students need to be prepared for an increasingly technological world. Both initiatives were on the February 11th ballot and both measures passed! Thank you!

Additionally, we are coming to the end of our four-year district goals, and it is time to set new ones. We want to set goals, however, based on the input of our community. Therefore, on Saturday, March 29th, we will be hosting a ‘Dream Big for Kids’ event. This will be one-day session where we envision what we want the Marysville School District to look like ten to fifteen years from now. Once we have this community mandate, we will determine our next set of benchmarks and goals to get us there. Watch your mailboxes for your invitation to “Dream Big for Kids”.

Thank you for your incredible support of our local public schools, and for your partnership in ensuring that the communities of Marysville and Tulalip are wonderful places in which to grow up – and to call home.

All of the best to each of you,
Becky Berg, Ed.D
Superintendent

Above: Austin Brown Flips his opponent twice in the second match. He went on to take first in Folk Style for the Marysville Club Wrestling team.

Juniors Drew Hatch and Killian Page had an excellent season on the way to state. Undefeated, Hatch ranked second in his weight class going into the championships. Even though he was fighting a fever, he stepped on the mats, losing his second match, coming back winning 5 straight matches and taking third for the 170 weight class. Page went to state undefeated as well. Taking time to warm up and get focused, he was a force in the 160 weight class, remaining in the championship bracket until the final match, placing second after he lost the final match to last year’s returning champion.

Freshmen Keith Pablo and Austin Brown made it to state their first year on the team. Although Pablo lost his first two matches and was not able to continue, he took each match right to the end of the time limits, refusing to be pinned.

Brown had a rough season, according to his coaches. What brought him to state was his spectacular performance in districts and regionals. In his final match, although he lost, Brown flipped his opponent twice like it was nothing. He went on to the State Championship for the Marysville club team, taking first in Folk Style wrestling.

Above: Drew Hatch lunges, shooting the hips, knocking his opponent off balance. He placed third in state.

Left: Keith Pablo starts his second match. He had many reversals and finished strong as a freshman at the state championships.

I am asking for your support and vote on March 15, 2014

Hello my people! I am asking for your support and vote on March 15, 2014 and promise if elected I will make a difference. I will ask myself every day, "What have I done to improve the lives, health and happiness of all my people?"

For those that may not know me, my parents are Nonie Cooper and Tom Gobin. I have lived at Tulalip all my life and I have vast experience in many tribal programs, which will be of great benefit as a Board member. I began working for my Tribe in 1981:

- On-Reservation Deputy Fisheries Director
- Executive Director of Tulalip Housing
- Tribal Services Manager
- Grants Writer
- TERO Director
- Casino HR Manager
- Executive Director of Human Relations at Tulalip Casino Resort
- ARM Manager/Unemployment Boot Camp Facilitator
- Currently aftercare AWARE Manager

For many years I was the Youth Group Leader at the Red Church, many will remember those days. I have been going into homes and hospitals offering prayers and songs for our people for as long as I can remember. I have been with the Church of God Band for over 30 years honored to sing for our relatives and friends that have gone on before us.

I have a deep passion for those that are afflicted with the drug and alcohol addiction. I have been sober and clean for many years but I never forget where I came from. I am concerned about every area of service and business at Tulalip. High priority today is the senior/elder policy issues, lack of healthcare, high unemployment, beda? Chelh issues, Family Services not providing detox or treatment to our people, tribal court system, land purchases when we are in a shortfall, building new homes when there are numerous homes boarded up, no youth activities, no early interventions, Early Learning Center cost overruns, education policy, fisheries and housing issues, are all of high importance. Suggested solutions:

- Committee appointed to review and make amendments to the new Caretaker and Disability Policies
- Tribally funded Obama Healthcare for all unemployed tribal members, plan includes detox/treatment 100%
- Forensic audit to research why Tulalip is in a shortfall or if it is in a shortfall
- Any purchases or committed funding over $1,000,000 come before the General Council – until we have our budget balanced with no shortfalls, may require Special General Council Meetings to be called
- Senior/Elder Program 2013 budgeted funding remain status quo
- All Tribal entity budgets be reviewed on a monthly basis
- Research motion made/passed years ago to build a Spiritual Hall – find funding to proceed
- Do not build any more new units

near Tulalip Bay – use hard dollars committed to the remaining homes not under construction as yet, for repair/clean-up of boarded HUD houses and apartments

- Commit QCV funds for tribal services to cover the cost of detox and inpatient treatment for tribal members.

I am asking once again for your vote so I can serve my Tribe in a fair, compassionate and professional manner. I will speak up, fight for our sovereignty and do everything I can to protect the safety of our children and elders and to retain programs that truly are providing needed services. We are the survivors, who have lived off the land, fought the fight and we will survive the financial/internal issues Tulalip is faced with today, because we are strong Indian people with great teachings passed down from our elders.

I'd like to announce my candidacy for the Tulalip Board of Directors

It is with great thought and consideration that I'd like to announce my candidacy for the Tulalip Board of Directors. I have worked in our Tribal Government for almost 10 years, and throughout my career I have had the privilege and honor of working with some of our greatest leaders. Over the years I have always tried to learn from their strengths and incorporate them into my own leadership style, and in the last few years I have watched the struggles that our tribe has faced. I have found that we always seem to be "in the system". I want to work "on the system" to improve it.

Over the years I have worked extensively with our budgets and budget process. I managed the police department's budget and worked with our General Manager and Executive team on the overall tribal government budgets. I have assisted and advocated for our people in navigating through programs and services. I have worked with our management teams and our community. Those who know me know that I have a way of listening and advocating for others, and I have the ability to get things done.

Now, more than ever, we need to find balance. We need solutions to our problems that ensure that we are tough on the issues and while being tender on our people. The solutions need to first come from listening to the voices of our elders. We need to invest in our children and in our people. In my conversations with others, and from my own observations as a tribal member, we need more open and honest communication. Our people need to feel safe to share their truth. Our people need to feel valued and that their opinions and ideas are respected.

If elected, I know that this will be one of the biggest commitments and challenges of my life, second only to raising children. I am ready with my ears wide open and my feet ready to hit the ground running. My commitment to my people is:

1. To always make decisions with the utmost integrity and in the best interest of all our people.
2. To listen with the intent to understand your truth.
3. To communicate with honesty to the best of my ability.
4. To work hard with our teams to create positive changes.

T'igwicid for taking the time to read this message. If you have any questions or comments, please feel free to contact me via Facebook, email (bonnie4bod@gmail.com), or phone (425-953-3585).

Sincerely,
Bonnie Juneau
